

British, Indian Troops Break Enemy Offensive

Jap Drive on India Is Smashed

Powerful Attack

Reds Drive Within 10 Miles of Pskov

MOSCOW, Feb. 28.—(BUP)—Gen. Leonid A. Govorov's Leningrad armies smashed enemy reinforcements and drove almost to within artillery range of Pskov, invasion gateway to Latvia and southern Estonia, at two points today in a general attack along a 50-mile front.

Under Mutual Aid
Canada Retains Post-War Rights All Equipment

By B. T. RICHARDSON
Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau
OTTAWA, Feb. 28.—Canada will retain post-war rights to all materials and equipment provided by this country to its Allies under the mutual aid scheme, The Bulletin was informed today. At the same time, it is recognized that vast quantities of equipment forwarded to Allied governments will be of little use after the war. Such items as trucks and artillery will likely have little more than scrap value after being used on the fighting fronts.

Hon. C. D. Howe, minister of munitions and supply, is expected to clarify Canadian policy in this connection when he speaks later in the present session on the bill to renew the mutual aid scheme for another year. The billion-dollar appropriation for 1933-44, is expected to be reduced to $600,000,000 for 1944-45.

PROPRIETARY RIGHTS
In connection with ships, the Canadian government is retaining ownership rights, it is understood, except in cases where outright sales of ships have been made. Few Canadian-made ships fall into the latter class, and Canada will

Bond Buyers Win Trip on Carrier

VANCOUVER, Feb. 28.—(CP)—A wartime cruise on the British Aircraft Carrier H.M.S. Reaper was the reward of more than 100 purchasers of United States fourth war loan bonds who arrived here over the week end and spent Sunday in a tour of Vancouver.

The passengers—Americans from Tacoma and Pierce counties in the State of Washington—were holders of lucky numbers in a draw open to bond purchasers. The British admiralty acted as host for the day-long voyage from Tacoma and the men, women and children on the cruise were guests of the Vancouver board of trade during their stay here.

Denies C.C.F. Has Joint Candidate

CALGARY, Feb. 28.—(CP)—The C.C.F. and Labor Progressive parties have not nominated a candidate for the provincial riding of Rocky Mountain House as erroneously reported, following a conference on February 17, P. N. R. Morrison, president of the Calgary C.C.F. organization said today. He said no official C.C.F. candidate had been appointed to contest the Rocky Mountain House provincial constituency.

At the Eckville convention, Victor Johnson, Bentley farmer, was chosen as a Farmer-Labor candidate. Following the erroneous statement that a C.C.F.-Labor Progressive candidate had been appointed, M. J. Coldwell, national C.C.F. leader, said any C.C.F. organization which co-operated with the Labor-Progressive party automatically lost its right to call itself C.C.F.

American Veterans To Get Govt. Loans

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Government loans will be available to returning members of the United States armed forces to help re-establish them in business, it was disclosed yesterday by Commerce Secretary Jesse H. Jones in announcing extension of the reconstruction finance corporation's small business loan program to include those mustered out of service.

Nazi Escapes

TORONTO, Feb. 28.—(CP)—City police said last night they have been advised a German merchant seaman named Horst Kordas has escaped from an Ontario prison camp. They did not say what camp was concerned in the escape.

Hollywood Stars De-Plane in Edmonton

Parkas and fur-lined flying suits were favored by a troupe of film and stage stars who made a brief stop in Edmonton Saturday, while touring military establishments in Northwestern Canada, where they entertain Allied servicemen. The troupe is headed by Kay Francis, brunette siren of the screen, and includes such rising stars as Marsha Hunt and Reginald Gardiner. In the above picture the stars are being greeted by Col. Eugene Stevens, commanding officer at the Edmonton air base for the U.S.A.A.F. From left to right are: Col. Stevens, Marsha Hunt, Kay Francis, Patty Thomas, Hollywood starlet, and Teddi Sherman, New York actress. Miss Francis holds the title of Hollywood's best dressed woman. She holds membership in the Shortsnorter club of persons who have flown the Atlantic ocean.

Kay Francis With Troupe War "Dirty Business" Screen Star Observes On Visit to Edmonton

By JACK DELONG
Sherman said that "war is hell." And Kay Francis, mellow-voiced brunette enchantress of the screen, strings right along with the famed American general. To Miss Francis war is not only hell but literally a very dirty business.

The dazzling star of "One-way Passage" and a score of other great box office attractions, was interested in only one thing when she arrived in Edmonton during the course of an entertainment tour of U.S. Army service camps in the northwest over the week-end.

"I haven't had a bath in five days, I guess you have an idea how I feel," she told reporters. One of the most conscientious of all screen stars now helping to keep up the morale of lonely Allied servicemen on the far flung battle fronts of this global war, Miss Francis drives herself harder than it seems possible for a human to be driven.

MANY LONG TRIPS
She often serves as master of ceremonies for three shows in a single day. There are many long trips by air to remote corners of the earth where bath tubs and water faucets are forgotten facilities.

In the party with Miss Francis are: Marsha Hunt, brilliant young star with Metro Goldwyn Mayer; Reginald Gardiner of 20th Century. Continued on Page 2, Col. 5

Canadian Sailor Air Raid Victim

LONDON, Feb. 28.—(CP)—It was disclosed today that a Canadian sailor—AB. Edward Billinger of Toronto, R.C.N.V.R.—was killed last Tuesday night in a German air raid on London by a 3.7 anti-aircraft shell which pierced the roof of a hostel.

Striking Miners Given Army Calls

SYDNEY, Australia, Feb. 28.—(CP)—Call-up notices for the army were being handed today to 500 miners between the ages of 18 and 25 who have been on strike in south coast mines since Feb. 14. Despite urgent warning by the coal commissioner that miners must present themselves for work today, none of the mines affected are working.

Labor Conference

MONTREAL, Feb. 28.—(CP)—Edward J. Phelan, acting director of the international labor office, today announced that the 26th regular session of the International Labor Conference opening April 20 would be held at Temple University in Philadelphia.

Last of Escaped Convicts Retaken

GREENWOOD, Miss., Feb. 28.—(AP)—The last of three young San Quentin convicts who abducted a 16-year-old girl in a jail break and police chase through Mississippi has been recaptured.

Hinds County criminal investigator J. T. Naugher said Ralph Ward, 23, was the last of the trio who broke jail in Jackson Saturday and held the girl for 12 hours. Ward was returned to Greenwood jail.

Capt. L. Thames said Lawrence Molari, 21, was captured behind a filling station in the vicinity of a warehouse, while Roy Drake, 20, was taken from the warehouse roof.

New German Gun Outrages Allied Artillery Pieces

ON THE CASSINO FRONT, Italy, Feb. 28.—(AP)—The Germans have a new 17-centimetre (6.69 inch) gun mounted on a railway car that outranges any Allied artillery pieces in action here, an Allied officer said today. This gun has a high muzzle velocity but its shell is not so heavy as those thrown by larger Allied guns, he said, adding that the Allies have superiority over the Germans in artillery on the Cassino front.

2nd Fire Victim Dies in Winnipeg

WINNIPEG, Feb. 28.—(CP)—Mrs. Herbert R. Robinson, 71, died in hospital today, second victim of a fire in the Canadian Legion hall in suburban Weston Saturday. Her husband died shortly after the fire while en route to hospital. A son, George, caretaker of the hall, is in hospital.

Claim Dogs, Cats Fed to Prisoners

MOSCOW, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Red Star yesterday quoted the Red Army paper in Karelia as saying the Finns had built numerous concentration camps and made Soviet prisoners work 14 to 16 hours a day. Prisoners are forced to eat dogs and cats, and in one place 40 per cent died of starvation, Red Star said.

Biting Gale Temperature In Quick Drop Over Week-End

The lamb-like mildness of one of the warmest winters in Edmonton's history felt the rend of the March lion's talons in advance over the week-end when central Alberta temperatures plummeted 30 degrees, to the accompaniment of biting gales of approximately 25 miles an hour velocity with snow flurries.

Drop in temperature in Edmonton from Sunday's high to the overnight low was 33 degrees to reach 6 below zero. Winds were frequently gusty up to 30 miles an hour and snowflurries brought a total precipitation of .05 of an inch of snow.

This was the second cold wave for Edmontonians during the month of February. On Feb. 10 the temperature sank to 25 below which was the coldest reading of the winter. Present temperature is expected to go much lower, according to weather officials but whether it will exceed previous cold spell is not predicted.

Although the snowfall so far is light, street-car sweepers were busy Monday morning as the fine light snow drifted into car tracks swept along on a cold wind. The snow flurries and winds which began Sunday evening are continuing and temperatures are expected to drop slowly throughout the day. The maximum temperature Sunday was 28 degrees and the overnight low was six below zero. Temperature at 8:30 a.m. Monday was still six below. The forecast is "overcast with snow flurries becoming cloudy with slowly falling temperatures and decreasing winds."

During the morning the temperature sank to 7 below zero, according to weather officials. At 2 p.m. it had risen again to 5 below, but the estimated temperatures for tonight and tomorrow promise colder weather. Estimated low tonight is 17 below, and the high tomorrow 10 below.

Germany Won't Remove Troops If Finns Quit

BERNE, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Germany has no intention of evacuating troops from Finland regardless of Finnish peace manoeuvres, a German foreign office spokesman said yesterday.

The Swiss newspaper Basler Nachrichten quoted the spokesman as saying that should Finland make peace with Russia, Germany will see to it that the resistance by Col. Gen. Eduard Dietl, commander of Nazi forces in Finland, equals that by Field Marshal Gen. Albert Kesselring in Italy.

The spokesman was quoted as declaring that no agreement exists between Berlin and Helsinki on the possibility of withdrawing German troops. He added: "Germany intends to leave her divisions in Finland even in case of a Russian-Finnish peace."

Calgary Studying Refunding of Debt

CALGARY, Feb. 28.—(CP)—Members of the civic finance committee were generally in favor of refunding part of the city's debt of $11,612,000 when they met Saturday afternoon to consider the question on motion of city council. Mayor Andrew Davison was in the chair.

There is new interest in refunding the capital debt of western municipalities, and Edmonton has just refunded $1,700,000 of its debt at 3½ per cent as against the average rate of 5 per cent now being paid.

It was felt that Calgary refunding debentures should command an equally good price as its debt was only half that of Edmonton and was against an assessment of $57,000,000.

City Controller E. A. Hookway was instructed to obtain information about the regulations of the foreign exchange control board and the committee will meet again on Monday afternoon next to further consider the matter.

Airmen Stranded

LONDON, Feb. 28.—(CP)—Berlin radio said yesterday at least 114 Allied airmen, mostly Americans, who bailed out of planes raiding Germany are stranded in the Alps in sub-zero cold, with heavy snow falls balking efforts of German mountain troops and civilians to reach them.

Report False

ALGIERS, Feb. 28.—(AP)—There is no truth to a Berlin-broadcast report that Gen. Charles de Gaulle has been wounded in an attempted assassination, it was announced here Saturday.

Doctor Dies

Dr. G. H. Malcolmson

Head of the provincial government cancer clinic, Dr. George H. Malcolmson, well-known radiologist, died at 6 a.m. Monday morning at the Royal Alexandra hospital where he had worked for many years. He was 75 years old and had been in indifferent health for several months.

Widely-Known Cancer Expert Dies in the City

Born in Hamilton, Ont., Dr. Malcolmson was graduated from the University of Toronto and served his internship at Hamilton General hospital. He first came west and started a practicing at Frank, and was there at the time of the big mountain slide. He came to Edmonton in 1910, and specialized in X-ray work. He was radiologist at the Royal Alexandra hospital ever since the new hospital was built until four years ago when he resigned to accept the directorship of the provincial government cancer clinic.

The cancer clinic was set up under his jurisdiction. Dr. Malcolmson was made a life member of the Canadian Medical Association in recognition of his unceasing work in the war against cancer. He was past president of the Edmonton Academy of Medicine and served for a number of years on the council of the Alberta College of Physicians and Surgeons.

During his professional career he made two trips to Europe to investigate methods of radium and X-ray in Switzerland, Germany and other countries.

In 1907 he brought the first X-ray equipment to Alberta from the United States, and he was one of the first medical men in Canada to use radium for treatment.

He also helped to organize the Boy Scout movement in Alberta, and was provincial commissioner of the association for some time.

He is survived by his wife, two daughters, Mrs. E. C. Darling of Edmonton and Mrs. A. Turnbull of Vancouver, B.C., and two sons, Maj. P. H. Malcolmson, of the R.C.A.F.C., overseas, and Wing Commander H. G. Malcolmson of the R.C.A.F., Winnipeg.

Funeral arrangements are in the hands of Andrews and McLaughlin, funeral directors, and will be announced later.

Postpone Trial Eight Montreal Tram Operators

MONTREAL, Feb. 28.—(CP)—Trial of eight Montreal Tramways Company operators, arrested after the 30-hour strike here, today was postponed to March 14 when defence counsel told Judge O. LeGrand the accused were "testing the constitutionality of the anti-strike law before civil courts."

Judge LeGrand granted the defence's request which was opposed by Chief Crown Prosecutor G. Fauteux.

A writ of prohibition in connection with the operators' arrests was filed last week in superior court.

Return to Work

DETROIT, Feb. 28.—(AP)—The return to work today of approximately 6,000 steel workers at the Great Lakes Steel Corporation's Ecorse plant ended a three-day work stoppage which curtailed production of armor plate for U.S. navy invasion landing craft.

Acting Minister

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Col. Juan D. Peron was sworn in as acting minister of war by Acting President Ezequiel J. Farrell today at a ceremony attended by Argentine cabinet members and Giacomo Luigi Cardinal Copello, archbishop of Buenos Aires.

Nippon Force Suffers Major Jungle Defeat

NEW DELHI, Feb. 28.—British and Indian troops, with strong air support, have "decisively broken and flung back" a major offensive by the Japanese seeking to smash through the Arakan front of western Burma and sweep into India, it was announced today.

In what was hailed officially as the first major victory ever scored over the Japanese by British troops, troops from the United Kingdom joined with Punjabis, Gurkhas, Madrassis, Mahrattas and Bengalis to kill more than 1,000 of the enemy—at least three times as many as they lost—and wounded at least 2,000 more.

During three weeks of fighting in the hot, dusty jungles around the Ngakyedauk Pass across the Mayu range, British and American troop-carrying planes defied hundreds of Japanese fighters to drop food and supplies to Lt. Gen. Alexander F. P. Christison's beleaguered fifth and seventh divisions of the British 14th Army.

Coldwell Asks For Withdrawal LaFleche Term

OTTAWA, Feb. 28.—(CP)—M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, said today in the Commons that War Services Minister LaFleche had suggested in the House last Friday that C.C.F. members were "National Socialists" and demanded that the statement be withdrawn.

Gen. LaFleche cited statements on national socialism which he said had been made by Mr. Coldwell in 1940, but said that if he had done an injustice to anyone on Friday he wished to make amends.

"I ask the Speaker's ruling on whether it is proper to term as 'National Socialists' the members of this movement?" Mr. Coldwell said.

"I can not be the interpreter of that," replied Speaker J. A. Glen. Mr. Coldwell said earlier in the discussion that Canada was at war with national socialism in Germany and that to accuse a party of being national socialist was to accuse it of disloyalty.

He said the minister also had mentioned men "who stayed at home" during wartime and had apparently knitted this statement to Stanley Knowles (C.C.F., Winnipeg).

Bloc Populaire Leader Blamed In Party Split

MONTREAL, Feb. 28.—(CP)—Paul Gouin, former leader of the Action Libérale Nationale party in Quebec, said in an address here last night that the breach that led to a split in the Bloc Populaire party could have been healed if Maxime Raymond, member of parliament for Beauharnois-La Prairie, and leader of the Bloc Populaire, had made concessions and "consented to go half way."

Mr. Gouin was speaking of the split between himself, Dr. Philippe Hamel of Quebec and Rene Chouinault on the one hand, and Dr. Raymond, Andre Laurendeau, provincial leader of the Bloc, and Edouard LaRoche, member of parliament for Beauce, on the other.

CAUSE OF BREACH
Mr. Gouin said the breach was caused by the fact that Mr. LaRoche had been given the power to hire employees, pay expenses for employees and future candidates and had thus become "a second leader" in what amounted to "state within a state."

(In a statement Saturday, Mr. Raymond said "We have wasted too much time arguing about men who stopped collaborating with us; we shall forge ahead along the lines we formerly decided upon and consider the whole matter as over and done with." The statement mentioned letters exchanged between Mr. Raymond and Mr. Gouin.

Mr. Gouin said that he and Dr. Hamel and Mr. Chouinault, member of the provincial legislature for Lotbiniere, had been wrongly criticized by members of the party and that they intended "to sift things to the bottom and let the public know the true facts" because it was the whole cause that was at stake.

DUTY "TO FIGHT"
"In face of the menace of Communism, a menace which becomes more aggravated every day, it is our duty to continue to fight—the fight which we have been conducting now for nearly 10 years," he said.

"We have been fighting continually despite the many obstacles, the many deceptions, the many attempts at duplicity. We will continue alone if it is necessary in the effort to see justice triumph and to have truth by employing methods based on justice and truth."

Meat Ban Lifted By Five Dioceses
By The Canadian Press

Roman Catholics in at least five dioceses in Canada are not asked this year to observe the normal regulation of abstinence from flesh meat on Wednesdays during Lent. It was shown today in a survey by The Canadian Press.

In Quebec, Winnipeg, St. Boniface, Montreal and Ottawa dioceses, ecclesiastical authorities have announced that only Friday will be a day of abstinence from meat this year because of Prices Board order banning the serving of meat in public eating places on Tuesdays. Authorities said the change in Lenten regulations was made so Catholics would not be faced with three meatless days a week.

In Halifax diocese the Wednesday restriction is removed only for Catholics who eat in public eating places, but not for those who take their meals in their homes.

No changes have been made in the regulations in the dioceses of London, Regina, Toronto, Vancouver, Saint John, Charlottetown, Edmonton and Saskatoon.

Editor Dies
PITTSBURGH, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Charles W. Danziger, 75, one-time editor of the old Pittsburgh Gazette-Times and Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph, and first managing editor of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, died Friday in San Diego, Calif., of pneumonia, it was learned here.

Daily War Map—Exclusively in The Edmonton Bulletin

In the South Pacific the Allies have seized the Green Islands at the north end of the Solomon group. New Zealand and American troops made the capture under the guns of cruisers. General Barrowclough led the New Zealand forces. This success cuts off 22,000 Japanese supposed to be in northern and southern Bougainville, Choiseul island, the Shortlands, and Buka island. Death from starvation and disease stares them in the face. The Allies now have a base only 120 miles east of Rabaul. They have troops at Arawe and Cape Gloucester on the west end of New Britain. Beyond that they hold Rooke and Long islands and much of the New Guinea coast. The Japanese will be squeezed out of New Britain and New Ireland in the matter of weeks. Areas held by the Allies are shown black on the accompanying map.

Says Rotarians Do Not Realize Value of Work

WINNIPEG, Feb. 28.—(CP)—Charles L. Wheeler, of San Francisco, president of Rotary International, said here Saturday night Rotarians many times fail to appreciate the indirect or less tangible benefits derived from their community service work.

Mr. Wheeler, speaking at the convention of Rotary International, said one of the finest examples of this occurred recently in Canada. At Edmonton a boys camp was closed this year because the boys voted to stay home in order that the money appropriated by the Edmonton Rotary Club could be sent to the bombed out boys and girls in Edmonton, Eng., he said.

IMPLANTED IDEALISM
"Perhaps Edmonton Rotarians have always looked upon their camp project as a means of building up the bodies of underprivileged boys," he said. "They succeeded in this and more. They reached the hearts of the boys and implanted there some of the idealism that had prompted the sponsorship of the camp project in the beginning. One cannot see or measure the quality or quantity of that kind of Rotary service."

PRACTICAL APPROACH TO PROBLEMS URGED
WINNIPEG, Feb. 28.—(CP)—A realistic, practical approach to the problems that will face mankind when peace comes, was urged by Charles L. Wheeler, of San Francisco, president of Rotary International, in address here Saturday night.

Describing the job of post-war reconstruction as "too immense and too far-reaching in its consequences" to be handled by any one group alone, Mr. Wheeler said: "Let us therefore put the manpower and the organized strength of rotary behind this effort—to the end that we can say to all of our boys, everywhere—When you finish that task, come home, we have a job waiting for you, in the kind of work you want to do."

He declared it was not enough to preserve the ideals of Rotary. Efforts must be intensified in translating those ideals into realities.

U.S. Steel Workers Ordered by Union To Resume Jobs

DETROIT, Feb. 28.—(AP)—The United Steel Workers of America (C.I.O.), Local 1299, last night ordered 6,000 striking employees of the Great Lakes Steel Company to return to work Monday and end a three-day tieup in production of steel armor plate for naval invasion craft.

The order, signed by the local union's grievance committee, instructed employees to return to their jobs at once.

The company attributed the dispute to the discharge of a single employee. A union spokesman replied that the company had refused to submit the dismissal to arbitration.

Forty Per Cent. Of Reich's Work Done by 'Slaves'

The writer of this dispatch, Taylor Henry, who now is in Portugal awaiting repatriation, was Associated Press bureau chief in Vichy at the time of the German occupation and subsequently was interned at Lourdes, France, and Baden-Baden, Germany.—EDITOR.

By TAYLOR HENRY
LISBON, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Forty per cent of all labor in Germany today is done by virtual slave workers drawn from captured and occupied areas.

The latest available estimates place the number of foreign workers in Germany at 12,000,000 out of a total of 29,000,000. This includes prisoners of war and persons of 21 nationalities.

The "big three" among foreign workers in Germany, so far as numbers go, are Russians, Poles and French in that order with the Russians totalling 2,500,000, the Poles approximately 1,000,000 and the French only slightly less.

Also impressed are an estimated 100,000 Jews picked up in occupied territories and sent to mines along the Polish-German frontier.

Canuck Airmen Have 'Hot' Time On Big Attack
By GEORGE KITCHEN
OTTAWA, Feb. 28.—(CP)—Severely damaged during 11 attacks by enemy night fighters, an R.C.A.F. Halifax bomber continued to its target of Leipzig, bombed it and then returned to base to provide the highlight of last week's bomber activity, the R.C.A.F. reported in its weekly summary of operations.

The big aircraft, piloted by FO Bill Blake of Hamilton and a member of the Canadian Bomber group's "Ghost" squadron, suffered loss of its starboard tail fin and the port under-carriage and severance of the inter-communication and oxygen lines.

MANY FIGHTERS
"I never saw so many fighters," Blake said later. "The sky seemed to be full of them."

While the bombers were adding to their laurels, Canadian fighter pilots, too, were busy making history.

Canadians in Coastal Command also were busy and Monday night Albacore dive-bombers of an R.C.A.F. squadron attacked and damaged two enemy E-boats in the English channel.

From Italy came news of activity by the "City of Windsor" squadron. Monday four of its Spitfires tackled a vastly superior enemy force over the Anzio beachhead, compelling the Germans to flee.

EDMONTON FLIER
WO. Tom Bradshaw of Edmonton, pilot of an R.A.F. Wellington bomber, was bringing his aircraft home from a bombing at Anzio when icing caused an engine to go dead and the aircraft went into a violent spiral.

Bradshaw ordered his crew to jump, but he stuck to his plane. Five hundred feet from the ground he conquered the spiral and flew safely back to base.

Heavy R.C.A.F. bombers were out on "ops" three nights. Lancasters and Halifaxes helped attack Leipzig and Stuttgart, and on a third operation Halifaxes laid mines in enemy waters.

U.S. Reveals 7,800 Planes Given Russia

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—(AP)—The United States has contributed 7,800 planes, 4,700 tanks and tank-destroyers and 177,000 tons of explosives to the Red Army's drive against Hitler, the Foreign Economic Administration announced yesterday.

Shipments valued at $4,243,904,000 were sent to Russia from the start of the Soviet aid program in October, 1941, to the end of last year, Administrator Leo T. Crowley reported.

PEAK IN DECEMBER
The flow of lend-lease hit its peak in December, 1943, bringing the tonnage for that year to a figure almost double that of 1942—5,400,000 tons against 2,800,000 tons.

Only one out of every 100 Russian-bound lend-lease ships was sunk in 1943, compared with 12 out of each 100 in 1942, Crowley said, and several hundred more ships were dispatched.

Upward of 3,000 of the planes turned over to Russia were ferried all the way by air, Crowley said.

An 8,400,000-ton total of arms and supplies dispatched to Russia ally in the 27-month period included these additional items:

More than 170,000 trucks, 33,000 Jeeps, nearly 25,000 other vehicles. More than 6,000,000 pairs of army boots.

740,000 TONS OF GASOLINE
740,000 tons of aviation gasoline, other fuels, and lubricating oils.

1,350,000 tons of steel, 384,000 tons of aluminum, copper and other metals, and 400,000,000 worth of machinery and machine tools.

Crowley said food shipments for the same period totalled 2,500,000 tons.

present population was 228,548 compared with 227,004 this time last year, he said.

Truly Terrifying

London Ack-Ack, Not Bombs Now "Big Thing" In Raids

RECLUSE, FOUND STARVING, WANTS BOTTLE OF PORT
VANCOUVER, Feb. 28.—(CP)—A hymn and a bottle of port were the first requests of John Thompson, 72-year-old recluse, brought to hospital here after he was found starving near the charred ruins of his cabin on Passage Island, eight miles from here.

The aged hermit lost both feet years ago when they were frozen. His isolated cabin has burned down three times since last November.

"He's the Lily of the Valley," sang the old hermit when he regained consciousness.

"And say," he added, "Could you get me a bottle of port?"

On further thought, he decided he wanted something to eat, a pair of shoes for the stumps of his feet, a green logger's coat and five or ten dollars cash.

Reports Sister, 9, Washed Into Sewer
DALLAS, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Charles Eberle, 11, told police that his sister, Melba Ann Eberle, 9, was washed into a sewer near her home during a cloudburst yesterday. The boy said he and his sister were crossing a footbridge over a ditch when she fell into the water. The current swept her into the sewer opening.

Red Cross Drive Is Now Underway

TORONTO, Feb. 28.—(CP)—The Canadian Red Cross Society opens a 2½-week drive today to raise a minimum objective of $10,000,000 in its annual appeal for funds.

The society's blood donor service requires an estimated $750,000 in the drive, which closes March 15.

Col. John A. Cooper, former president of the Red Cross in Ontario, has been appointed chairman of the motion picture committee which will co-ordinate support of Canadian theatres in the drive. Sub-committees of theatre men in each province have been appointed to supervise regional arrangements, including special films and campaign displays in theatre lobbies.

THE GREAT BRITAIN YOU TRULY ARE

• They have said she is isolated by the enveloping sea. But she has used it to join the hands of millions.

They have said she is fortified only by ships. They err. She is fortified by the strong hearts of her sons.

Proud in arms, with a mighty heart, Great Britain has withstood a thousand storms and will again. For hers is the strength of millions whose valour springs from a birth-right of freedom.

Mother of parliaments, they call her...champion of justice and right.

We of her soil and of her blood and of her tutelage say this today: the world is in her debt for the part she has played in yesterday's eras of peace and progress. It will be so in the peace and progress to come.

We of Canada salute the Great Britain you truly are!

THE HOUSE OF SEAGRAM

We of The House of Seagram are proud of the part we play in supplying Great Britain with vital weapons of war. Every Seagram plant in Canada and the United States is engaged in the production of high-proof alcohol for smokeless powder, shatterproof glass, drawing inks, synthetic rubber and many other war-time products.

Quebec Gives A Lead

A half dozen of those held responsible for the Montreal tramway strike were promptly arrested. They were accused of violating the new act of the legislature which forbids civil servants and employees of a utility service going on strike. Premier Duggan evidently means business in taking the stand that the people of a community should be protected against such interruptions of the services upon which they have to depend for ordinary living conditions.

This legislation breaks new ground, and should be studied by the governments and legislators of the other provinces. Quebec in this instance has set a precedent in progressive action that cannot be ignored. There should be no such thing as a strike on the part of public employees, nor on the part of those who operate such vital utilities as tramways, waterworks systems, electric lighting plants. The possible consequences are too serious for such tie-ups to be permitted.

To make this prohibition reasonable and workable, there must of course be no toleration of conditions which cause responsible employees to go on strike. Those who serve the public in these ways should get fully as good treatment as those employed in other occupations, rather better treatment than worse. And there must be full provision, with compulsory features, for the prompt hearing and settlement of all causes of dispute and all claims for betterment.

Even Slaves Can Protest

Whether or not, as reported, Hitler has told the Pope that the Nazis intend to make Rome a battle ground, they are acting as though that were the plan. And their record implies that if they fail to do so it will only be because the place would not be worth the cost of trying to hold it. For the religious institutions and cultural monuments which would be endangered and probably destroyed in the fighting, the new barbarians have no more regard than the Vandals who sacked the city 1500 years ago.

The Allies have made clear that Rome will be by-passed by their forces if the Nazis evacuate the city. The responsibility thus rests with the German commander in Italy, and back of him with Adolf Schickelgruber, as to whether the ancient ruins, and perhaps even Vatican City, are to be pounded into debris in the course of street-by-street fighting.

German Catholics and German scholars of all sects cannot surely be indifferent to the fate that seems to be marked out for Rome by the Fuehrer. They may not be able to compel him to spare its shrines and monuments, but they should find some way to register their protest against the needless desecration and to dissociate themselves from the crime. Slaves though they are, they owe that much to the faith they hold and the claims of culture.

Reactions from Truk

For once the Tokyo announcer told the truth—or most of it—in describing what happened at Truk. He did not minimize the loss of ships, though he did cut down the number of planes destroyed, and had not much to say about the damage done to the base installations.

This unusual candor suggests that Premier Tojo felt it necessary to state reasons why he had cashiered the commanders-in-chief of the army and navy. Both the dismissed officers stood high in the esteem of the military caste, and a Japanese premier who wants to remain premier, or to even stay alive, has to be careful about stirring the wrath of the all-powerful clique.

"Down with Tojo" handbills are said to be circulating in Tokyo and other large Japanese centres. Possibly they are being distributed by the democratic element. They may express growing war weariness and apprehension among the suppressed masses. But quite as likely they are being broadcast by friends of the dismissed officers who are hungry for revenge. Or that they signify a plot to oust Tojo because he is not winning the war and replace him by someone who has not been involved in the reverses that have come to the expansion policy of the war lords.

Tojo, like Hitler, is the tool of a caste. What happens to him is a minor matter. The vital thing is that the age-old war tradition be broken and the caste wiped out.

The Realities

Post-war planning is, next to the maintenance of our war effort, the subject of most public importance in Canada at present, and it is appropriate as well as hopeful that it is getting keen official and public attention. If some of the "planning" looks more like the building of dream castles, that is perhaps inevitable and is something which the native sense of our people will correct in due course.

Canadians are not visionaries. They do not expect that manna will fall from the skies when the war clouds roll away. They do expect, and intend, that known defects in our economic system will be ironed out, that the distribution of wealth will be made on a fairer basis than in the past, that the average standard of living will be higher than in pre-war times, that opportunity shall be broader and life more secure. But they are not, in the mass, looking for miracles, and have a healthy suspicion of experimental prescriptions for an economic millennium.

War, with all deference to what seem to be contrary opinions, is not a potlatch nor a grabfest but a calamity, in the economic sense as in all others. It is not a heaven-sent dispensation of good, but a devil-invented disaster, the evils of which do not end but only start to end when peace is restored. Destruction is not the road to enrichment. The world will be poorer, not wealthier, when this frightful waste of materials and productive manpower has been stopped.

By whatever name the process may be called the post-war era will have to be an era of reconstruction, in the shaping of public policies and the ordering of social conditions, but also in the material occupation of rebuilding devastated countries and cities, and in the payment of war debts. This is the reality that has to be met, and the end to which post-war planning will have to be directed.

Stockholm reports that Field Marshal von Keuchler has been dismissed and Colonel General Walter Model appointed commander of the German army in northern Russia. He will be a model general if he can get the army out of the trap.

Norwegian representatives in London say the Nazis are already scuttling out of northern Norway, foreseeing the surrender of Finland. The report may be premature, but if so it is prophetic. If Finland drops out, Hitler will have to recall his forces from Norway or leave them marooned and fated for liquidation after the Russian pattern. Unless of course they take matters in hand, get out of their own accord or follow Finland's example.

Paramushiro and Shumushu, in Japan's northern Kurile islands, were lightly attacked by a reconnaissance force of Allied bombers, which may have been scouting in advance of a task force attack like that made on Truk. The southerly route is not the only road to Japan. The northerly line of approach is feasible to long range land-based planes operating from the Aleutians. Perhaps it will become one prong of a pincers operation when the time comes to strike Tokyo.

The Saturday Night Review

Summary of Broadcast Delivered Over CFRN Feb. 26

By HAROLD L. WEIR

The national prestige of President Roosevelt appeared to suffer this week when he was subjected to severe political setbacks in the American Senate.

His financial policies were repudiated by the leader of the Democratic party in that chamber and this revolt appeared to be endorsed by many of the Democratic senators.

Now this circumstance, I think, is something of a tragedy for the whole civilized world. No one will quarrel, of course, with the insurgent senators who have every right to exercise their own political judgment. But it does seem unfortunate that the American governmental system makes it necessary for the president to give and take those intimate political blows which tend to reduce his stature as a great inspirational figure.

In brief, it is an unhappy fact that Roosevelt the legend has to suffer from the political vicissitudes of Roosevelt the man. It is particularly unhappy when we realize that the world has so many men and so lamentably few legends.

Hero Worship

I think Thomas Carlyle made it abundantly clear, and experience supports his contention, that humanity's strength lies in its heroes. We all draw force and a capacity for endurance from the inspiration of those great aloof figures that tower over mankind.

But a legend, or a world hero, is compounded only partly of fact and largely of imagination. The crowd should never get too close to the hero or he loses his value. After all, he is a dramatic spectacle. And dramatic spectacles lose their verity when one observes them from the wings.

It is impossible to discount the humanity of heroes or legends because their heroism is built on their splendid humanity. They must be great men before they are great legends. But it is that extra bit, the nimbus of illusion, that gives them their value in world crises. They are made up of a nucleus, which is what they actually are, plus an aura of tremendous public faith, which is what the public thinks they are.

The British system of government which in times of great national stress, permits the prime minister to stand aloof from the turmoil of domestic politics, has enabled Mr. Churchill to maintain his legendary qualities.

Legend

And great as is Churchill the man, Churchill the legend is infinitely greater. The legend of Churchill is one of the greatest present assets of civilization.

The legendary Roosevelt is similarly powerful. That suave resourceful figure of determination and good faith and tremendous convictions is one of the spiritual fortresses of a distressed and tormented world.

The common people have been able to look at Churchill and Roosevelt with an intense faith. They regard them as symbols of the genius of the English-speaking nations. They regard them as the epitome and the crystallization of what each Canadian or Britisher or American would like to be. They are the personalized sublimation of the national hope.

Now this is neither frivolous nor fanciful. It is fact, and, metaphysically speaking, the legend is more real than reality. For the difference between a legend and a man is that a legend is what a man will be when he comes to be his best.

I am not criticizing the very great and successful American system of government. But I do say it is a very great pity that the exigencies of domestic politics should tend to tear down Roosevelt the legend and leave only Roosevelt the man.

Edinburgh

I had a letter this week from a young friend in the Canadian Army in England and he tells me that upon occasion London is out of bounds to the troops. In consequence, many of our young fellows are spending their more extended leaves in Edinburgh.

I can imagine no lovelier city in which to "kiss up" the ravellied sleeve of care. Indeed, this young man's account of his trips to Edinburgh left me with a feeling of nostalgia. For the magic of Edinburgh is that peculiar kind of magic that permits everyone who goes into that charmed city to feel that he is going home.

There is only one way to approach Edinburgh, of course, and I am afraid my young friend did not take it. I mean that one should cross lower Scotland from west to east and absorb its flavor slowly before coming to the consumption in the city of the castle.

Reminiscences are always tedious, but somehow I can't resist casting my mind back to my own first visit to Scotland, to that enchanted morning when I woke up in the Firth of Clyde and the sun was drenching the hills with primrose yellow and the small gulls were raising a terrific uproar over the sparkling water and a brisk breeze, like wine, was blowing out from where Ben Lomond brooded, like a great blue puma, over the landscape.

Adam's Apple

I will spare you the details of going ashore at Greenock and of my encounter with a Scottish customs officer who possessed the largest Adam's apple I have ever seen and who manifested an inexplicable concern over the possibiity of there being whiskey in my luggage.

I will not dwell on the train ride to Glasgow and my explorations of that fascinating city where the first person I addressed, a waitress in a coffee house, turned out to be a Canadian girl who patiently gave me a much-needed lesson in the intricacies of British currency.

But I will tell of one peculiar accident that occurred to me in Glasgow because it illustrates how generously Providence does watch over innocents abroad.

On the third day of my stay in Glasgow I decided to pick up and go to Glenaeles. So about noon I sauntered over to the Buchanan street station which at the moment, appeared to be singularly deserted. I knew that a very fast train ran to Glenaeles some time during the afternoon, so I pursued my enquiries among the trainmen who were fiddling around in numerous tinpot engines along the tracks. One congenial soul offered the information that he was taking out a train to Glenaeles in ten minutes. I decided to take it.

Only Passenger

Telephoning the hotel to send my luggage along by a later train, I got aboard and discovered, after we were well away, that not only was this particular train the very slowest train in the world, but that I was the only passenger aboard.

It turned out to be the most delightful trip I had ever taken because I made my own timetable. We stopped first at some marvellous little village, whose name I have forgotten, but which I was immediately anxious to explore. I asked the guard how long we stayed there and he replied "As long as you like."

And he meant it literally. When I came back to my carriage, in about five minutes there was the train and, as soon as I was aboard, the grinning station master tooted his whistle and off we went.

This was repeated more than once, until, under the spell of that amazing country, I decided it would be foolish, if not impossible, to reach Glenaeles that night. So I bade goodbye to my private train at Sterling and gave myself up to unrestrained exploration.

Well, I actually got into Glenaeles a week later, very dirty, very dishevelled and very happy. For the man who could dash through without soaking his soul in the delights of that countryside must have precious little soul to soak.

Entrhralling

I could speak for hours, I think—but I won't—about the absolutely entrhralling towns and streams and bridges and castles and cottages of the Border and the Lowlands.

I could tell a tale of seeing a ghost at dusk in Sterling Castle. I could tell a tale of wandering on the slopes of Bannockburn in a field made heavenly azure by bluebells and watching a young boy, whose ancestors' blood had dripped into the setting sun with a milk-pail banging against his bare legs.

I should like to tell of the barefoot women sowing in the fields, scattering seed from their ample aprons. I should like to tell of Glenaeles with its magnificent golf courses, like green velvet, and the rocks calling to one another across the fields at sunset, and the Roman encampment there and the force-covered hills that shine fridescendly in the morning sunlight with the softest and loveliest pastels in the world.

But all this falls to get us to Edinburgh and, to cut a long story short, I did get there, eventually, and stood one evening in a magic casement in the Caledonian hotel and watched the floodlights switched on to bathe, in an unearthly glow, the sheer walls, the battlements and the keep of Edinburgh Castle.

Graveyard

That was a rare moment. And I stood there until three in the morning drinking it in as though I could not get enough. Between me and the Castle was an ancient graveyard where De Quincey is buried and which is encircled with a high, thick wall upon which sentries used to pace, not so many years ago, because Edinburgh's medical students had the playful habit of rifling graves for dissection specimens.

For those who don't know, let me say that Edinburgh Castle rises, on a vast living rock, from the very heart of the city. Around it used to flow a moat. But the moat is dried up and has been converted into splendid gardens.

This rock of Edinburgh Castle dominates, not only the city, but the entire district. There has always been a castle there. And the legends go back for almost six thousand years.

The oldest constructed building on the keep, at present, is Margaret's Chapel where Queen Margaret, wife of David the First of Scotland, died at prayer. David reigned in the year 1200 and something.

There are much older rooms, of course, hewn out of the living rock and the actual age of these may go back to several thousand years before the birth of our Lord.

The Jewel Tower is fascinating, containing as it does the Scottish Crown Jewels which are less precious but actually more beautiful than the English, with their delicately set emeralds and diamonds and yellow gold.

Skeleton

They show you the room, in Mary's Tower, where the unhappy Mary Stuart gave birth to James who was afterward King of England. But Mary's Tower has another and more sombre attraction. Some fifty years ago, workmen who were repairing the stonework on that tower discovered, by sound, that the keystone over the entrance arch appeared to be hollow. By authority of the military governor, the stone was dug out and opened. It contained the skeleton of a new-born child, wrapped in cloth of gold and embroidered

SIDE GLANCES

"Margie's the one who made the speech at our club the other night about how servicemen like the cold, dignified type of girl!"

within sight of the distilleries that turned it out.

I envy my young friend who is seeing Edinburgh for the first time. It is the queen of cities and certainly close to my heart.

But, God bless me, here it is eight o'clock and there is no time for that profound discussion of strategy I had intended. I've run on like a garrulous fishwife and not one word about the war.

How to Dress Up Your Home

By MARY ALICE QUAYNE

This is the season when many a homemaker casts a disapproving eye at limp window hangings or worn upholstery, and decides that home should never be like this. To help to do over a tired room, the decorators and designers offer not only hints and suggestions as to spring color schemes but an interesting display of unusual fabrics with which to do it.

If these bright, new materials do not furnish you with ideas, the groupings of color themes shown in an Edmonton store will help in achieving the professional touch. An heirloom plate for instance, or a prized painting, or a rare rug have been used to show how room colors are blended with drapery goods and furniture covers against the right walls.

Highlighting the display of darling floral prints for custom-made slip covers and window draperies, are some of the finest textured materials. Each of these big and bold print patterns is co-ordinated with one or more matched plain-colored fabric to harmonize in a room.

Wide, horizontal stripes of turquoise and white make one of the most unusual of the block prints. In this pattern, modern figures in turquoise appear on the white striping. Against a coral toned background, flowers and birds are block printed in white, and in another of the print fabrics, huge cyclamen toned valley lilies are splashed on an ivory ground.

If you are wondering how to brighten your home for a moderate cost, look at the new cotton weaves. Some are like heavy hopsacking, and some have a linen look to them. They are gaily patterned in everything from jungle blooms to old-fashioned climbing roses.

For those bright cotton drapery touches such as occasional pillows and lamp shades, you should extend your visit to include the dress goods sections. There the quaint gingham plaids, and printed calicos will set your fingers itching to get busy with a needle.

Slimpy Curtains

Gone are the days when the easiest recipe for most decorating problems was bountiful yards of beautiful fabrics for the windows. It used to be that the worst room headaches could be usually cured by full, ample, lavish swoops of curtains.

Now the trick is how to make curtains that don't look skimpy, and how to make new curtains out of old ones.

Whatever your temptations, don't make skimpy curtains. If you haven't enough material for full curtains, make sash curtains. If you haven't enough material for full enough side draperies, have only a swag across the top or a valance. There are several ways of making pretty curtains with less material—or with simple inexpensive fabrics for the windows that simply must have lots of yardage.

First, the question of curtains that can be made without using much material. Those will be still length to begin with, and they can be sash-type curtains, either double or single. Double-sash curtains enable you to control the light from either top or bottom and can be used without side draperies and with or without a valance across the top.

Single-sash curtains for the lower pane are pretty for many informal rooms and are practical in combination with top-to-sill length side curtains made on rings to swish back and forth. Besides their charm, sash curtains have the asset—they can be made out of worn-out long curtains, for most curtains get their wear on one spot, and when this bad part is cut off, there is still enough material left for sash curtains.

Many windows look a little plain without any top or side finish, but you would be surprised how much effect can be had from an interesting swag or valance. A perfectly straight length of fabric looped over rings or brackets at each top corner of the window and falling only 12 or 18 inches down the sides often looks very smart.

A gathered valance gives a gay finish to certain windows. Many odd pieces of fabric from the remnant counter or fabrics that have seen their best day in slip covers, still have plenty of life left for valances where there is no stress or strain.

If your windows demand full-length full-cut swooping curtains, make these of an inexpensive material. Rows of wide tucks across the bottom or interesting braids or fringe, which you can still find here and there, will finish them off.

Rye at Chicago Makes Advance

CHICAGO, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Rye provided the leadership in a stronger grain market today, advancing more than a cent at times on buying by local traders. Expansion in the demand for four served to support wheat prices, although gains were small, while oats moved up in sympathy with firmness at Minneapolis.

The advance in rye was considered mainly technical as there was nothing in the news to inspire buying. A reduced movement of corn from the country had a favorable influence on the prices of other feed grains. Bookings totaled only 70,000 bushels, mild temperatures and rain making it difficult to shell and haul the yellow grain.

At the close wheat was 1/4 higher, oats were up 1/4, rye was ahead 1-1/4, and barley was up 3/4.

Rye Futures Gain In Winnipeg Trade

WINNIPEG, Feb. 28.—(CP)—Portugal purchased a small lot of high grade Canadian wheat today, traders reported on the Winnipeg grain exchange.

Rye futures moved into higher ground in light trading. Moderate American selling was well absorbed. Final May were 11-1/2, higher with a 1-1/4, July 11-1/2 and October at 11-1/2.

The Bulletin's SPORT SHOW by Hal Dean

SPORTS EDITOR

GLEN WILLIAMS, of Calgary, probably never will come closer to winning and yet lose an Alberta British Consols final. Nevertheless the rock he missed at the Royal on Saturday night was a draw by Cliff Manahan and was the second almost perfect shot made by the Edmonton skip in the same end when the chips were really down and defeat the only alternative if a slip occurred.

Manahan has now won premier curling honors in Alberta six times within the past 11 years. His first victory was in 1933 when he won the Dominion title, and which he again captured in 1937. He reached the Brier final again in 1938, but finished second with eight wins and one loss. Ab Gowanlock of Winnipeg won that year. Getting as far as the final again in 1940, Manahan tied for third with the New Brunswick entry.

The Dominion championship series was called off for the duration a year ago, thus depriving Cliff of two more shots at the title, but still giving him a position indeed unique in Canadian curling history. Incidentally Wes Robinson played third, while Ross Manahan was second and Lloyd McIntyre lead for his rink in '37 and again in '38. Harold Deaton, Hank Wolfe and Bert Ross, all still curling, at the Royal, were with Manahan's 1933 Dominion champions.

ORCHIDS TO LANCASTER

ALTHOUGH Sammy Samson provided both the tying and pay-off counters, the work of Bill Lancaster in the Navy nets proved the decisive factor in the 2-1 win by H.M.C.S. Nonsuch over Canadian Athletic Club juniors on Saturday night.

The goalie for the Sailors has played great hockey during all three games in the playoffs, but Saturday's victory was largely an individual triumph for the hawk-eyed net-minder from Mountain Park. About the only thing lacking to make it absolutely complete was the fact that he wasn't in on Samson's goals.

Navy got going full steam ahead though in the third period, but the first two were Canadian by a wide margin. Lancaster handled 14 shots in the final 20 minutes and Alex Cavalli at the opposite end had 12 to look after. Both teams have scored 12 goals in the three games.

BOXERS AT CHICAGO

WILLIAM J. PETERSEN, John R. Hopkins and Morton Goodstein, entered in the Golden Gloves tournament at Chicago, according to today's press dispatches, are all from the local U.S. Army Air Base and all three competed in the boxing tourney held in the Arena just under two weeks ago.

Billy (The Kid) Petersen, it will be recalled, won his own class and later went an exhibition three rounds with the heavy-weight, Morton Goodstein. Hopkins won two bouts on the final night of the tourney. Lt. George Regitto, special services officer, made the trip to Chicago with the three boxers.

There will be no junior hockey at 119 Street rink tonight, but the juveniles commence their play-downs on 96 Street ice, with E.A.C. and Maple Leafs the two finalists. Med-Dents wrote finis to the season's hockey activities at University of Alberta when they defeated the Engineers 9-0 in the Interfac final. It was the second time the Med-Dents had taken the title in the last three years and the last Saturday was their 10th in a row this year.

Season's Largest Crowd

Combines Down Wheelers In Last Game of Schedule

CALGARY, Feb. 28.—(CP)—Tecumseh-Mustang Combines made certain of home ice for first as well as the third game of the best of three semi-final playoff series when they defeated Red Deer Army Wheelers 3-1 in the final game of the Central Alberta Garrison Hockey League at the Arena Saturday night.

With the season's record crowd of 4,227 paying patrons present, Combines secured a one-goal lead in the first period; added two more during the second and then held a determined Red Deer club to a single goal in the third period.

Dave "Sweeney" Schriener, AB. McDougall, Roy Sawyer scored for Combines, while Emery tallied for the northern army team. Red Deer was strengthened by the addition of Larry Kwong, a Chinese youth, and Andy Chakowski, of Canmore.

First game of the semi-finals will be played in Calgary Tuesday, second game at Red Deer Thursday, and should a third be necessary, it will be in Calgary next Saturday. For this playoff Navy will have to play by themselves for R.C.A.F. restrictions ban Air Force players.

Take Primary, Secondary Events

Kiwanis, Lions Win Out In Service Club Bonspiel

The Kiwanis and Lions rinks came through to capture the primary and secondary events respectively in the third annual Associated Canadian Travellers' Service Club bonspiel yesterday by winning out in the semi-finals in the morning and going on to take the finals in the afternoon. Ice for the 'spiel was donated by the Royal Curling Club.

The Kiwanis crew, made up of George McLoughlin, Lloyd McIntyre, Fraser Gerrie and Bill Fawcett won the main competition when they defeated Gyro Club, which includes Reg Jennings, Russ Carter, George McClellan and Bill McKinnon, 15-7 in the final after knocking over Rotary 10-9 in the semi-final. Gyro reached the final by ousting Senior Chamber of Commerce 11-4 in the morning.

In the secondary event, Lions Club of Jack Miller, Vic Michener, Graham Kirkstone and Russ

Whites Win 7-6 In Exhibition Camrose Rink

Divided into two teams—Reds and Whites—Edmonton Vics, Alberta's entry in the senior hockey play-downs, staged an exhibition game before a capacity house at Camrose on Saturday night. Whites won 7-6.

Honnie Calvert led the winners with a pair of goals, the others going to Bill Ingram, Pete Gregor, Jimmy Anderson, Jimmy Graham and Bruce MacKay.

Louis Holmes and Art Soley each bagged a pair of counters and Leroy Goldsworthy and John Molyneux netted singletons for the Reds.

Feature of the game was the work of Earl Robertson in the nets for the Whites.

Four-year-old Benny McGill of Camrose, who acted as mascot, faced off the puck to start the game and was later presented with an autographed hockey stick.

Buffs Drop Out Of Intermediate

CALGARY, Feb. 28.—(CP)—According to secretary Davy Duchak, Calgary Buffaloes will not participate in the intermediate hockey playoffs this spring. He says "the players are too busy managing and coaching teams in the Calgary Pee Wee League." A year ago Buffaloes won the Western Canada intermediate championship at Vernon.

Calgary Rink Grabs First 13-12, Then Drops Next Two 14-6 and 12-10

Manahan Wins 6th Alberta Consols Title

Takes Second And Third Of 3-Game Final

SKIP Manahan, two-time Dominion curling champion, won his sixth Alberta title when his rink defeated Glen Williams of Calgary two out of three games in the British Consols final at the Royal Club on Saturday.

The Calgarys took the first of the series in the morning 13-12, but the Manahan quartet, other members of which are Wes Robinson, Lloyd McIntyre and Harold MacDonald came back with two in a row, winning 14-6 on the early afternoon draw and following with a 12-10 decision in the third session.

Manahan captured his initial Dominion title in 1933 and he repeated in 1937. His other Alberta Consols successes were in '38, '40, '43 and now 1944.

Although Williams pulled the first game out of the fire in the morning with two fine shots on the twelfth to count three and thus overcome a deficit of two going home, he passed up a glorious opportunity to capture the trophy when he threw away the last rock of the third game.

Williams counted in only four ends of the rubber clash, but included with his singleton in the eighth, a trio in the second, a pair in the seventh and four in the tenth which deadlocked the score at 10-10.

Manahan squeezed out one in the eleventh for the edge going home, but left the Calgary rink with the last rock advantage. The 12th end didn't work out very well for the Edmonton curlers and when Manahan came to throw his first rock, Williams was lying three. Cliff drew in beside for the counter beside his opponent's number 1 rock, but Williams passed both through and rolled to the back ring.

Manahan then drew another into the eight-foot circle for shot, but the rock was wide open. Williams missed it and the championship by a couple of inches.

The Calgary rink, curling well during the early part of the morning held a 6-1 edge after the first four ends. Manahan picked up three in the fifth, but Williams replied with the same number to give him a 9-4 advantage.

The Edmonton rink cut the margin down three in the seventh and after losing one in the eighth added two in the ninth where Manahan made both of his rocks count. Cliff then picked up one to tie the score in the tenth and when Williams was short a couple of feet with his second rock, collected two more in the eleventh.

The 12th end was an uphill fight for Manahan. His first shot was perfect, but Williams took it out and a nice roll left him with two Manahan then fell on a long guard when trying to hide a draw and Williams drew in for three and the game.

The second of the three games was a different story. Williams took one in the first and a pair in the second, but Manahan really won the game when he passed out Calgary's shot rock in the third and counted a cluster of five. The rest was easy and the Edmontonians coasted to a 14-6 win.

Len Haw played third rocks for the Calgary rink. Jimmy was second and Rod Dumville lead.

Following are the end scores for each game:

First game: Williams..... 041 103 010 003—13
Manahan..... 100 030 302 120—12

Second game: Williams..... 120 012 000 00—6

Canadiens Make Clean Sweep Of All Games on Detroit Ice

DETROIT, Feb. 28.—(CP)—Montreal Canadiens, newly crowned champions of the National Hockey League, ran their winning streak to six games by defeating Detroit Red Wings 5-1 before a capacity crowd of 13,347 spectators last night at Olympia Stadium.

The Canadiens swept all five games on Detroit ice this season. Canadiens, whose clinching of the league title Saturday night wasn't followed by a letdown, took the lead in the first period on a goal by Maurice Richard, who recently beat Detroit with three goals in less than three minutes.

Emile Bouchard and Murph Chamberlain scored for the champions in the second period, and Murray Armstrong got Detroit's goal that deprived netminder Bill Durnan of a shutout. Richard and Fernand Majeau shot the third period goals.

Armstrong's goal was Detroit's 170th of the season for the club's scoring record.

C.R.U. Planning Hold East-West Football Final

TORONTO, Feb. 28.—(CP)—Delegates attending the annual meeting of the Canadian Rugby Union here Saturday decided to hold the East-West football final in 1944 "provided conditions are satisfactory" and voted to create a fund designed to assist promotion of the sport among minor teams.

A C.R.U. spokesman said the decision to perpetuate the classic event of the Canadian football season, won last season by Hamilton Flying Wildcats, was supported "enthusiastically" by delegates.

To gather funds for supporting and promoting the effort of minor teams, a percentage of gate receipts from sectional play-offs and the East-West final will be set aside for the fund, to which all affiliated unions will be asked to contribute.

On recommendation of the Ontario Rugby Football Union, it was decided that the eastern final should be played on the home field of one of the contending clubs rather than on neutral grounds.

Last year's eastern final between Hamilton and Lachine R.C.A.F. was played at Toronto, drawing protests from Hamilton club officials.

Dr. A. P. Davies of Ottawa was elected union president for 1944. Honorary president will be Hamilton (Laddie) Cassels.

Other officers include Col. Stewart Forbes, Montreal, first vice-president; N. J. (Piffles) Taylor, Regina, second vice-president; T. H. C. (Tommy) Allison, Toronto; and Frank Lennard, Dundas, Ont., and R. P. Frey, Saskatoon, executive.

Frank Prendergast of Toronto was added to the board of governors and R. W. (Hobby) Hewitson of Toronto was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Hornets on Top Aircraft League

Sid Alton piloted his Hornets into first spot in the Aircraft Repair hockey league Sunday with a 10-6 win over Basil Stewart's Typhoons in the final schedule game played at the A.R.L. rink. Hornets get the bye into the championship tilt, with Typhoons playing two-game total score series with Hoover Machine Shop on Tuesday and Thursday at 8 p.m. at the A.R.L. rink, to provide opposition to Hornets.

Big scorers in Sunday's contest were Art Soley and Jim Moore with four goals each for the Hornets. Harvey Johnson picked up the two other counters for the winners.

Northcott brothers, Les and Nick, bagged two markers apiece to head the Typhoons' scoring. Wally Moorehouse and D. Walster hit the hemp once each to complete the loser's six score.

LINEUPS
Hornets—T. Stimson; G. Sebastian, A. Soley, Moore, Alton, Orr, Verbeck, Bartlett, H. Johnson.
Typhoons—G. Johnson; Hart, Engel, de Forest, Anderson, Totyka; L. Northcott, W. Moorehouse; D. Walster, Ford.

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 28.—(AP)—Strong-armed Eddie Arcaro, whose whip seems to turn into a magic wand when he mounts a longshot horse in a Hialeah Park stake race, guided Green Tree Stable's Stir Up to a surprising triumph Saturday in the $15,000 Flamingo, Florida's three-year-old feature.

While the biggest crowd of the year, 17,262, watched in amazement, Stir Up raced the odds on favorite, Director J. E., into submission in a stirring duel down the back stretch, then went on to finish with a 1 1/2 length advantage over the rank outsider, Skytracer, M. B. Goff's bay colt.

Mrs. E. D. Jacob's Styrmie trailed Skytracer by five lengths. Fourth place went to Grant Thorn's filly Fire Sticky, and Director J. E., Ella K. Bryson's Kentucky Derby hope, wound up a badly-beaten fifth.

Stir Up ran the 1 1/2 miles in 1:52 2/5, far off the track record of 1:48 1/5. The winner paid $18 to win, $2.40 on a place and $5.20 on a show. Forty-to-one in the straight pool, Skytracer returned $37.20 and $18. Styrmie paid $8.

Navy Beats Canadians 2-1 For Edge in Playoff Series

TWO final period goals, both from the stick of Sammy Samson gave H.M.C.S. Nonsuch a 2-1 triumph over Canadian Athletic Club in the third game of the City Junior Hockey League playoff, at 119 Street rink on Saturday night. The Sailors won the first 7-6 and so now lead the best-of-five series two games to one. Canadians took the second 4-2.

Outcome of Saturday's affair was largely attributable to fine work in the Navy goal by Bill Lancaster who although deluged with shots in the middle session and the early part of the last kept the bars up. Ken Cox scored the Canadian's lone counter early in the opening stanza.

Canadians had much the better of the play during the initial two periods, even if they had only one goal to show for it. Navy came back with a rush in the final chapter after securing the tying goal and from there out held the edge.

COX OPENS SCORING

Canadians moved into the lead after seven minutes of the initial period had elapsed when Cox, essaying a passout from the goal, earned the puck off Lancaster's skate into the net.

There was no further scoring, even though the Canucks did hold a one-man advantage during the 20 minutes on two occasions. Jack Ingram was banished at 14:18 and he had just returned to the ice when Jerry Dea was chased.

Canadians did about everything but score during the second period and for the greater part of the time kept up the pressure on the Navy goal.

Bob Causgrove drew an early penalty, but the Sailors were unable to capitalize on it. Just after 14 minutes Ingram was waived off again and he was followed in a few seconds by Ken Anderson of Canadians and in less than a minute Pete Shirvell also was sent off, leaving three in the box for a spell.

In spite of holding a five to four player-edge for almost a minute, Canadians failed to register. And it was during this time that Lancaster did his most brilliant net-minding.

SAMSON NETS EQUALIZER

The final period opened with Canadians carrying the play to the Navy again and Lancaster had to kick out several quick ones.

Just before two minutes, however, Cox was sent off for boarding Ingram and seven seconds later—1:58 to be exact—Samson tied up the score on a shot from near the blue line. This time it was the Canadian goalie who had the bad break, for the puck appeared to hit an obstruction for it jumped over Alex Cavalli's stick.

Shirvell went off at 5:08 and Canadians resumed the attack, but again without result. Arnold Armstrong almost beat Lancaster when he went right in after taking Causgrove's pass.

As soon as they were back at full strength the Sailors applied the pressure. Dea got right through twice in succession. Cavalli making

Med-Dents Triumph by 9-0

To Cop Varsity Puck Title

With Bruce MacKay driving in four goals and assisting in the same number, Med-Dents whitewashed Engineers 9-0 at the Varsity rink Saturday afternoon to capture the Interfac Hockey League title by taking the best of three final series in two straight games.

Barss Dimock also turned in a sparkling performance for the winners, scoring twice and passing for another while Lloyd Miller, Art Fraser and Paul Drouin drove home the other three markers.

The Med-Dents took a 2-0 lead in the first period, MacKay hitting the twine twice and Drouin once and then increased it to 7-0 in the second with MacKay tallying two more and Miller and Barss Dimock each netting one.

Fraser made it 8-0 early in the third session and then Dimock finished off the counting shortly afterwards on a pass from the former. The Med-Dents turned in one of their best performances of the season and Ken Torrance was brilliant on several occasions in the winners' nets.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28. — (CP) — Ed Conwell of New York University won the 60-yard run at the National Amateur Athletic Union indoor track and field championships at Madison Square Garden Saturday night, tying the meet and world record of 0.061.

Gil Dodds, Boston's student pastor, whirled 11 times round the plank saucer in 4:08.3 as he once more failed to break the world indoor mile mark of 4:07.4 but he won the meet race.

Conwell got away to a perfect start in the dash to tie the world standard which Ben Johnson of Columbia, first put on the books in 1938. He was only inches ahead of Herb Thompson at the finish.

Dodds pounded through the first half mile in 1:58.8 and hit the three-quarter mark in 3:01. He had no competition after the quarter mile mark and finished with a 75-yard edge over Don Burnham of Dartmouth. Bill Hulse of New York led at the end of the first quarter in 1:00.3 but then dropped behind.

The line of Gerry Ball, Ken Harigan and Ian Macdonald, was very effective for the winners. Harrington scored three and assisted in a like number. Ball tallied twice and helped in a pair and Macdonald bagged one and assisted in two. Oryst Stogryn netted the other marker on a pass from Mike Danys.

Thirty-Two Top Soccer Teams
To Enter Cup Rounds Saturday

By ALLAN NICKLESON

LONDON, Feb. 28. — (CP Cable) — The first 32 finishers in the 56-team Football League, North, war cup qualifying competition will enter the cup rounds proper next Saturday but last year's winners, Wolverhampton Wanderers, will not be among them.

The Wolves did not win a game during the qualifying rounds which ended Saturday and finished with a tie 1-1 with Walsall. Wrexham ended on top of the list, edging out Crewe 1-0.

Cup participants play home-and-home, total-goal series, the 16 winners meeting in the second round starting March 18. The first round draw made after Saturday's matches included Wrexham versus Manchester United, Bath versus Bristol, Stoke versus Aston Villa, Bradford versus Sheffield Wednesday, Birmingham versus Leicester, Derby versus Coventry and Blackpool versus Everton.

Among the top-flight teams, Bath defeated Swansea 5-2, Stoke defeated West Bromwich 5-4, Leicester tied 1-1 with Notts Forest, Sheffield United swamped Doncaster 7-0, Bradford lost 4-2 to Huddersfield, Manchester United drew with Oldham 1-1 and Everton trimmed the last-place Tranmere Rovers, 5-1.

The biggest crowd of the day, 20,000, watched Birmingham beat Aston Villa 2-1. In a rugby international at Marburyfield, England repeated last year's triumph over Scotland 23-12. The Scot defence could not cope with England's fast-moving three-quarters.

Six goals by Bee Bryant, Clapton Orient's amateur centre, featured a 10-0 victory by the British Army against the Norwegian Forces in an inter-Allied Services cup first.

Skitch Elected

New President

Of the E.D.F.A.

Art Skitch was elected to succeed Alderman H. D. Ainlay as president of the Edmonton and District Football Association last night at the annual meeting held in the Corona hotel.

Margaret McCallion was named first vice-president, Bob Torrance second vice-president and Paul Soderberg was elected general secretary. Additional members of the executive are Ralph Allen, Flt. Lt. Bill LaRoque and Murray Saldman.

Entries from five girls' teams and the same number of men's clubs were accepted last night. Entries for the league will be extended to March 18, date of the next meeting of the association.

Men's teams already entered are: Loyal Order of Moose, U.S. Quartermasters, Centrals, Aircraft Repair and U.S. Army Air Corps.

Girls' clubs entries are: C.W.A.C., U.S.A.A.C., Army and Navy Pats, Walk-Rites and Aircraft Repair.

Maj. Blaisdale, U.S.A.A.C.; Ralph Allen, Moose; Cpl. Wide, Quartermasters; Bob Torrance, Aircraft Repair; Cpl. Phyllis Culver, C.W.A.C.; Clare Hollingsworth, Army and Navy Pats; Murray Saldman, Walk-Rites, were the representatives of the teams already entered.

The association is seeking permission to use the South Side Athletic grounds during the coming summer and if the grounds are available, it is hoped that a junior girls' league will be started.

With Oxford University 2-0, H. M. Needham scoring both goals.

Meanwhile Oxford defeated Cambridge 6-5 in rugby at Oxford for their first victory over the light blues since 1939.

SASKATOON, Feb. 28. — (CP) — Led by rambling Gerry Couture, who netted three counters, Charlie Mason's University of Saskatchewan Huskies scored another 7-3 win over Bud McKenzie's Saskatoon Lions to win the Northern Saskatchewan junior hockey championship Saturday.

Huskies won 7-3 a week ago to take the two-game total-goal series 14-6.

Couture, who was out of last week's game with the flu, combined with Bob Shore to give Huskies a backwall that kept the Lions scoreless for 35 minutes of play. Other scorers for Huskies were Ray Daniels with two goals who pivoted Sprout and Ward.

Jacobson and Sprout were the other scorers for Huskies while Herb Mann, Gord Hogge and Al Storey tallied for Lions.

goals. Bob Lyons notched the winning counter at the 5:42 mark of the second period. Tommy Fowler was best for the losers, scoring once and starting of plays that resulted in the other two goals.

LONDON, Feb. 28.—(CP)—R.C.A.F. Mosquitoes destroyed three German planes, one towing a glider, south of Paris Saturday. It was announced last night. They also shot up grounded German planes, leaving at least three blazing.

Ft. Lt. H. Cleveland of Vancouver and Ft. Lt. Charles Scherf of Australia shared in destruction of a Heinkel glider tow plane and of the two-man glider it was towing. Each also destroyed a Gotha. Scherf's navigator was FO. C. Finlayson of Victoria, B.C. The planes were the first Cleveland had destroyed.

Cornea From Eye Of Dead Man May Give Woman Sight

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Bellevue hospital surgeons transplanted the cornea from the eye of a dead man to the left eye of Mrs. Margaret Dwyer, 60-year-old widow, Saturday in the hope that the operation would partially restore her vision after seven years of almost total blindness. An infection of her eyes in 1937 caused surgeons to remove her right eye and the other eye was left with only two per cent of normal vision.

U.S. Officer Expresses Appreciation for Canadian Aid

Commanding General Tells Of Early War Activities In Ferrying Army Planes

Expressing great appreciation "For the invaluable aid given us by you and your countrymen," Brig. General D. V. Gaffney, commanding general of the Alaskan Wing, United States Army, Air Transport Command, told the story of the history of the Air Transport Command to the Kiwanis Club meeting Monday noon at the Macdonald hotel.

Born in June of 1941, he said, the command came of age almost overnight with Pearl Harbor. "There was more to be done than ferrying planes to take-off points within the Continental United States, which had been the original mission of the Ferrying Command," he said.

"Before long, the command could say that it had flown more ton-miles in one month than was flown by all the domestic airlines of the country during 1941, biggest year of their peacetime operation. "Men and material had to be gotten places in a hurry and the job of doing it fell to the ATC and its Navy counterpart, the Naval Air Transport Service."

The Air Transport Command is now fighting its first war, improvising as it goes along. Yet today, the Command's military personnel alone approaches six figures.

This is its growth from a single basement room in the Munitions Building, Washington, D.C., as its first headquarters with a staff of two officers and a clerk," he said.

Gen. Gaffney pointed out that the private airlines of the nation proved a lifesaver. Much of their flight and ground personnel was absorbed into the Air Transport Command.

While civilian airlines aim at safety, comfort and maintenance of schedules, in that order, he continued, the Air Transport Command places its greatest emphasis on safety, with maintenance of schedules in second place. But comfort is out, he said.

Proof of the excellent safety record of the ATC is in the fact that "During the four months ended Jan. 31, 1943, the ATC flew more than 4,000,000 miles in Africa and carried 21,300 passengers without injury to a passenger or loss of a plane."

"During 1942 99.7 per cent of all planes accepted for delivery both within and without the United States reached their destinations safely."

Mentioning the recent War Department awards of Distinguished Flying Crosses to 35 pilots of the ATC, Gen. Gaffney said that none of these men were in action against the foe.

"They had just flown—which, in a manner describes the mission of the ATC—it just flies, and keeps on flying," he said.

Brig. Gen. Gaffney was introduced by Paul C. Seddick, acting American Consul. Also on the program was Capt. Harry Baker, U.S. A.A.F., a professional magician, who did sleight of hand and other tricks of magic.

Officials Tell Formation New Y.M.C.A. Group

Edmonton Y.M.C.A. leaders, Clark Ready, Ralph Young and W. Armour Bull were back at work Monday after participating in a two-day conference of the Alberta Y.M.C.A. Secretaries' Association at Lethbridge, which wrote a "new page in the history of the Y.M.C.A. association," according to delegates.

Representatives from Y.M.C.A. associations in Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia joined at the conference in launching a Mid-Western Canadian Association of Y.M.C.A. Secretaries.

The new president succeeding Clark Ready, general secretary of the Edmonton Y.M.C.A. is Wilbur Wellband, Calgary Y.M.C.A. general secretary, and the new secretary succeeding Ralph Young, Edmonton Y.M.C.A. program secretary is A. A. Struthers, Regina Y.M.C.A. physical director.

Also attending the conference were two national Y.M.C.A. representatives, Fred Hubbard, personnel secretary, Toronto and George Young, area supervisor of the Y.M.C.A. War Services for Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Yukon. The Rev. Gray Rivers, executive secretary of the Alberta Religious Education Council attended as a fraternal delegate.

In summarizing the results of the conference, the new president, Mr. Wellband said that "I think we have created a little bit of association history in the bringing together of the mid-western provinces."

The new Mid-Western Canadian Association of Y.M.C.A. secretaries mapped out a program for the centennial year that hopes to "broaden the effectiveness of the Y.M.C.A. movement in its second century."

Troops Train At Ryan Farm

Members of the 2nd (R) Battalion The Royal Edmonton Regiment, under Lt.-Col. R. W. Hale, M.C., E.D., officer commanding, put in a full day of winter training Sunday at the St. Albert farm of M. L. "Mickey" Ryan, famed northerner and transportation official.

The troops were conveyed to and from the Ryan farm in trucks of the 41st Reserve Brigade Group. At noon a hot meal was served by the unit's quartermaster staff.

Training consisted of snowshoe hikes and skiing, with all members of the battalion going through initial instruction in the art of handling this type of winter equipment. Some of the troops, on skis for the first time, took several spills, but all came up smiling and were back for more.

In the afternoon Fred Marshall, of Cold Lake, gave a demonstration of the proper method of loading a toboggan, and of dog-sled driving.

Johnny Grant, foreman at the Ryan farm, had charge of arrangements for the visit of the troops.

Fur Coat Is Missing From Cabaret Here

A racoon coat, valued at $200, the property of Miss Bertha Mack, 1008 103 avenue, was believed by police to have been given to the wrong party by the check-girl at a Jasper avenue cabaret, early Sunday morning.

Miss Mack told investigators that she had gone to the checking room about 2:30 a.m. Sunday, following a dance at the cabaret, to get her coat, at which time it was discovered that the garment was not there.

According to a police report, the checking-room attendant had left for her home before officers arrived at the cabaret, and was not interviewed at that time.

Police were told by the management that should the coat be not recovered, a new one would be purchased immediately.

Investigations are continuing.

Craig, 639 12 street south, Lethbridge; L. F. Morrison, Coyle; G. Sandulak, Bellevue.

On Wednesday evening the Council for Canadian Unity is holding a "Chinese Night" in which some of Edmonton's Chinese citizens are participating. Items of special interest will be the reading of some well-known Chinese legends by Mrs. E. S. Haynes, new Chinese guerilla songs, and a paper by Vera Pon on "War in China Today," to be followed by a discussion period. The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. at the Talmud Torah hall, and is open to the public. Refreshments will be served.

Red Cross Fund Drive Commences

Members of city service clubs and business and industrial leaders gathered for breakfast Monday morning at the Macdonald hotel to launch the opening of the 1944 ten million dollar national Red Cross campaign.

Pointing out that 37 cents of every dollar contributed goes for the specific purpose of supplying Red Cross parcels of food for prisoners of war, Robert Muir, secretary-manager of the Edmonton branch of the Canadian Red Cross, said that 100,000 parcels of food are going overseas every week.

It is expected that during 1944 that number will be increased by 30,000, to take care of the prisoners of war of the Allies. Another 30,000 Mr. Muir continued, will be required if and when the Japanese government permits the sending of parcels to soldiers interned in Japanese prisoner-of-war camps.

These parcels, it was stated, actually mean the difference between life and a slow agonizing death for the boys. They contain 11 pounds of carefully selected foodstuffs.

Mr. Muir reviewed the various services of the Canadian Red Cross. Among these are obtaining vast amounts of human blood and supplying it to the wounded. From the 2,000 donations a week of two years ago, donations have been stepped up to 20,000 a week.

The meeting was told that no matter how much was given, it was not enough.

MANY JOBS DONE

The Red Cross, Mr. Muir went on, is doing an innumerable number of individuals and every contribution serves every individual in some way.

RED CROSS SERVICES

Other services of the Red Cross are taking care of the sick and wounded in hospitals; the distribution of woollens such as socks and sweaters, for soldiers and civilian victims of bombing and destruction; food, and assistance for all those who need help, knowing "no boundaries into urgency and need."

Mr. Muir said that about 100 men from this district are prisoners of war now and depend upon the Red Cross for existence.

He urged that Canadians contribute to the Red Cross on a personal basis, giving for every boy they know who may benefit from the Red Cross.

Among other speakers at the head table were Reg. T. Rose and John Dower, chairman of the Northern Section of the Alberta Campaign Committee.

Mr. Dower said that in 1943 "we received 50 cents per capita more in Edmonton than the national average."

Campaign kits were distributed to various group leaders and instructions were given as to details of the campaign.

Prior to making his address, Mr. Muir announced receipt of the first contribution to the campaign, a $500 check from the Infrared branch of the Canadian Red Cross.

Among those at the head table at the breakfast were: E. F. McGarvey, Edmonton campaign manager and chairman of the meeting; C. E. Jacobs, American Red Cross; John Dower, Robert Muir; Reg. T. Rose; H. S. A. Johnson, manager, Hudson's Bay Company; E. H. Ayling, vice-chairman, Northern section, Alberta Campaign Committee; C. D. Jacobs, chairman, Industrial-commercial division; Harold Cooper, chairman, business zone division; H. Brock Smith, assistant merchandise manager, Hudson's Bay Co.

The breakfast was contributed by the Hudson's Bay Company.

The campaign will last for two weeks and will consist of a thorough canvass of business and industrial areas of the city.

The Inquiring Reporter

THE QUESTION

What do you think of proposals to have the city go into the house-building and renting business as advocated by some persons recently as a means of solving the acute accommodation shortage?

THE ANSWERS

M. McNIVEN, stenographer: I think it is a good idea advanced too late. By the looks of things there should be a definite easement in housing conditions here before long. The action should have been taken two years ago. I don't think it necessary now.

E. AGAR, artist: We certainly need new homes badly but I don't think it wise for the city to enter that business. There would really be a howl if a slump caught the city with hundreds of empty houses on its hands.

J. FLINT, agent: I think the federal government should pay the shot on any housing scheme in wartime. Housing of citizens is just as much a government job in total war as housing soldiers, sailors and airmen. In particular is this true where the overcrowding is a direct result of war activity. It is definitely not the responsibility of the city.

In Warsaw, Poland, there are 85 number published there legally before the war.

Sgt. W. C. Jackson, D.F.M., son of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton L. Jackson of 10123 123 street, who has completed 38 attacks on enemy targets. His citation said that as an air bomber he has displayed coolness, courage and a strong sense of duty.

Airman Completes 38 Attacks on Hun

Flight Sergeant Walter Charles "Wall" Jackson today wears the ribbon of the Distinguished Flying Medal, hallmark of those who have excelled at their airborne trades.

The 24-year-old air bomber, whose home is in Edmonton, has completed 38 attacks on enemy targets. His citation said in part: "As Air Bomber Flt. Sgt. Jackson has displayed coolness, courage and a strong sense of duty. He has completed a tour of operations during which he has been largely responsible for the fine efforts of his crew in bombing and photographing their aiming point with accuracy. He has taken part in operations against many important objectives in Italy and Sicily, always attacking with precision despite frequent and heavy opposition."

Formerly a bank employee he has little to say about his adventures. "Wall" Jackson graduated from No. 3 Air Observer School here in November 1942, and after arrival overseas spent his entire flying career with the same unit. He logged one trip to Germany before the squadron moved to the African continent.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Jackson, moved here a number of years ago from St. Catharines, Ont.

Civic Employee Dies in Street

Alex W. Kinnear, of 11904 95 street, an employee of the city engineer's department, collapsed about 3:30 p.m. Sunday while conducting a survey of some property at 108 avenue and 97 street. Rushed by Jack Hays' ambulance to the Royal Alexandra hospital he was found to be dead on arrival. Dr. E. A. Braithwaite, chief provincial coroner, who investigated, said death apparently was due to heart attack.

Mr. Kinnear was an instrument man on the city engineer's department and he had been doing this type of work since 1920.

He is survived by his wife, two brothers, William J. of Edmonton, and Albert E. of Edmonton and one sister, Mrs. Edward Summers of Markdale, Ont.

Funeral service will be held Tuesday at 2 p.m. from Andrews and McLaughlin funeral chapel. The Rev. W. T. Young will officiate and burial will be in the Edmonton cemetery.

Capt. W. R. Baker Dies Here Sunday

Resident of Edmonton for 28 years and secretary-manager of the Edmonton Cemetery Co. Ltd., for several years and active in welfare work on behalf of returned veterans, Capt. Wilfred R. Baker died in the city Sunday after an illness of some duration. He was 77 years old.

Born in the Channel Islands, Capt. Baker came to Edmonton 28 years ago. He served with the 49th Battalion and the 101st Edmonton Fusiliers in the First Great War.

He was an honorary life member of the Canadian Legion and a life member of the Last Post Fund organization.

A son, Maj. Wilfred H. Baker, is serving in Italy with the R.C.A.S.C. Mrs. Mary V. McQuay of this city is a daughter.

Funeral will be held Wednesday from All Saints Anglican church at 2 p.m.

Church Policy on Social Questions Outlined by Edmonton Archbishop

While the church does not claim to have any authority in the strict sense of the word, once these social problems began to touch upon faith and morals, then, at that moment, the church has a right to intervene and deal with these questions, Most Rev. J. H. MacDonald, D.D., Roman Catholic Archbishop of Edmonton, said Sunday at St. Mary's Separate School auditorium. He was speaking at the Catholic Laymen's Forum, sponsored by Edmonton Council, Knights of Columbus.

Addressing the first session of a series of Lenten meetings, arranged by the Catholic Laymen's Forum for consideration of problems of post-war reconstruction, His Grace said, however, that all social problems have become intermingled with the questions of faith and morals.

POSITION OF CHURCH
While the church does not claim to have the right to speak from an economic or political standpoint, he continued in his address on "The Authority of the Church to Deal with the Social Question," it does have the duty and authority to deal with the faith and moral aspects of those social questions.

The archbishop pointed out that this authority to be concerned about the faith and moral aspects of the social question, "is the authority given to the church by our Lord, Jesus Christ, who gave us the church."

Although the word social has many meanings, His Grace said, it actually evolves around the relationship of labor and capital.

There has been a tendency to try to separate the church from the social question, even though the science of morals is so closely related to the problems involved in the social question, the archbishop said.

Since the industrial revolution, he continued, the problem of the unequal distribution of wealth in the world and the exploitation of labor was getting worse and worse until "men saw fit to organize themselves during the past 25 or 30 years."

In any event, he said, the "church has never condemned the capitalist system, but the abuses."

Some social problems are mostly

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

War Promotes Give-And-Take Attitude
Wife Appreciates Husband's Feelings and Man Gets Taste of Mate's Home Cares; More Understanding All Around

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a widow and have to play the part of both mother and father, and in so doing I have learned to see the home from a different perspective. I am the one who comes home dead tired at night to find things out of order, slap-dash meals not to my liking on the table, the children frowny and unkempt and like as not in a row. Then I ask myself: Is this the way I treated my husband? Is this the way I kept house? Is this the kind of food I fed him? And the answer makes me feel like shedding tears of repentance.

If I were ever to marry again, I would make a better wife for having filled the shoes of a man. My working experience would be a great blessing, and I wonder if there are not many other women who do not have this same feeling.

ANSWER: The old saying that one half of the world does not know how the other half lives is nowhere else so true as it is in domestic life. There is no man who would not make a better and more considerate husband if he could swap places with his wife, even for a month, and find out by experience how exhausting and nerve-wearing it is to cook and wash and patch and mend and baby-sit for a family. Nor is there any woman who wouldn't make a better wife if she could go through the trials and tribulations and anxieties that a bread-winner does who knows that the very lives of his family depend upon his keeping his job.

For, curiously enough, husbands and wives are almost invariably jealous of each other and each one thinks that the other has gotten the better of the matrimonial bargain. A husband will say to his wife: "I wish I could take it easy like you do and have nothing to do but stay at home and look after the children." And the wife thinks that her husband leads the life of Riley, and that he spends his days swapping stories with other men and going out to luscious lunches and maybe flirting with a pretty stenographer. But if the husband had to spend even one day sweating over the cook stove, and listening to the baby howl, and settling the children's rows and answering the million calls for M-o-t-h-e-r, he would sigh for his job again. And if the wife could see that every dollar her husband makes is wet with his blood, she would know how hard it comes and she would be glad she has the spending instead of the earning to do.

I think that after the war many a woman who has worked in a defense plant will know a better wife because she will know from experience what it is to come home so tired that she wants to do nothing but throw herself on a couch and have nobody speak to her, and so she will not badger

MOCKING BIRDS ARE NOT THE CLEVEREST AT MOCKING OTHER BIRDS

It is a mistake to rate the mockingbird as the best mimic among the feathered tribes. The No. 1 impersonator is the starling, which is a better and more persistent imitator than the mockingbird, and has a wider range of tones and methods of mocking other birds. The starling has not been as dramatic as the mockingbird, but its very quiet delivery is a part of its superior technique as compared with the blustering, sensational mockingbird. Listen to the starling's duplication of other birds' songs and judge for yourself.

McKenney On Bridge

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY America's Card Authority

Perfect hands do not always prove the most interesting in a tournament. The player who wins top score is the one who takes advantage of his opponent's slip-ups. I played recently at the Mayfair Bridge Club in New York with Capus Waynick of Raleigh, N.C., and the hand shown today came up. Waynick sat East, and made the somewhat optimistic four-spade bid. Looking at all four hands, you can see that the contract looks quite hopeless, but this is the way he played it.

Hand analysis showing cards and tricks. North won the opening diamond lead with the ace and shifted to a spade. South won the trick. If South had continued with a spade now, the contract would have been defeated. But South shifted to a heart, which does not look abnormal. Waynick went up with dummy's ace, led a diamond to his king, ruffed a diamond in dummy with the five of spades, ruffed a small heart in his own hand and another diamond in dummy with the eight of spades. Ruffing another heart in his own hand, he picked up the other

Eleanor Roosevelt MY DAY

WASHINGTON.—Living here in the White House makes you think a great deal about the kind of men who stand out in our history and whose birthdays we celebrate annually. Washington chose the site for the Capitol and discussed the plans for the city and the White House, although he never occupied it.

To me, the days at Valley Forge best show the stuff of which Washington was made. He went through great discouragement, with an army that was ragged, poorly fed and never warm, with insufficient ammunition, and with a divided government back of him which often provided no money with which to pay his soldiers.

His soldiers were deeply concerned about their homes and families. Because they knew that food would be lacking at home if the seeds were not planted and the harvest garnered, they frequently asked to go home in groups which made the strength of his army uncertain, even though they promised to return.

What vision Washington must have had of the future to make him fight the Revolution through to victory! No wonder he was tired at the end, no wonder he longed to join his wife and live in peace at Mount Vernon. How simple the little problems of farm management must have seemed as he labored at his desk at Valley Forge!

There is one good reason for paying homage to our leaders of the past—it makes us remember our history and it gives us courage to face the present. If the people of these 13 states could surround their difficulties with the memory of more than 130,000,000 people in 48 states can meet theirs.

Yesterday afternoon I received the newly appointed ambassador of the Argentine Republic, Senor Dr. Don Adrian C. Escobar, and his two very attractive young nieces. One of the girls is a professor of English and the other is just preparing for her last examination for a Ph.D. I do not think anyone need be afraid that their learning will keep them from enjoying life, however.

You know about the National Negro Opera Company? Mrs. Mary Cardwell Dawson runs it. They are giving a performance in English of Verdi's opera, La Traviata, at Madison Square Garden on March 29. Lillian Evanti, who once sang for us here, and Joseph Lipscomb will play the parts of Violetta and Alcindoro. The idea of this organization is to offer opportunities to the Negro musicians in the field of grand opera; to develop higher professional standards in all fields of higher art; to establish the proper appreciation and cultural background that opera offers; to inspire composers of both races, particularly the Negro composer, to create more interest in composition in the operatic field using the background of Negro folk tunes.

Long ago, Mr. Samuel Weiden Johnson told me that we made a mistake in this country in not encouraging the greatest distribution from all our minority groups in the fields in which they are gifted. Music is distinctly a field in which the Negro people have a great gift.

War Kitchen

By GAYNOR MADDOX

Good meatless main dishes solve Lenten and ration problems. Use these tested recipes for welcome meals without meat.

SCRAMBLED EGGS AND TOAST CUBES

Four tablespoons bacon drippings or other shortening, 1 1/2 cups cubed bread, 5 eggs, 5 tablespoons milk, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper.

Heat shortening in a skillet. Add bread cubes and saute until a golden brown. Reduce heat to simmer. Beat eggs slightly, add milk, salt and pepper. Pour egg mixture over sauteed bread cubes and stir constantly until eggs are cooked. Serves 5.

SCALLOPED TUNA

One small can tuna, 4 tablespoons butter, 4 tablespoons enriched flour, 1 tablespoon chopped onion, 2 cups milk, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon paprika, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 2 hard-cooked eggs, 1 tablespoon chopped green pepper, 2 teaspoons chopped parsley, 1/2 cup buttered crumbs.

Melt butter, add flour, chopped onion and chopped green pepper. Cook slowly for several minutes, stirring constantly. Add milk, salt, and cook until thick and smooth. Add salt, pepper and chopped parsley. Put half of tuna fish in the bottom of a greased casserole, then one egg, sliced, and half the white sauce. Then repeat, using the other half of ingredients. Cover with the buttered crumbs. Bake 20 minutes at 400 degrees. Serves 5.

Tomorrow's Menu

BREAKFAST: Orange juice, oatmeal, crisp bacon, rye toast, marmalade, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Cream of spinach soup, toasted hard rolls, raw carrot sticks, warm gingerbread with soft custard sauce, tea, milk for children.

DINNER: scalloped tuna, baked potatoes, broccoli with mock Hollandaise, celery, enriched soft rolls, butter, half grapefruit, coffee, milk.

MISERIES OF Baby's Cold Relieved As He Sleeps

"Now... here's a reliable home-proved medication that works 24 hours a day to relieve distress of child's cold—even while he sleeps. Just rub throat, chest and back with Vicks VapoRub at bedtime. And instantly VapoRub goes to work to relieve coughing spasms, ease muscular soreness or tightness and invite restful, comforting sleep. Often by morning, most of the misery is gone. For baby's sake try Vicks VapoRub tonight. It must be good, because when colds strike, most mothers use Vicks VapoRub."

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

One way for the prospective mother to minimize the influence of her own unusual behavior is to take it for granted and say calmly, "Oh, I guess it's just my condition." Presumably that's just what it is.

On the contrary, to try to analyze it, to give it undue importance, when one's glands are influencing emotional behavior, is to drive the "patient" frantic. Every mother should exert all possible control over emotions but when this breaks down and she "goes to pieces," better let go and not worry about it.

Mrs. F. S. says her problem is herself. "I have two boys, eight and nine and I expect another baby. I am 29 years old and what worries me is my tendency to cry. I cry when I get up and when I go to bed. I have a lovely home and a happy life, there certainly should be nothing for me to cry about."

"But I live in constant fear. I am afraid my boys will be beaten by hoodlums on their way home from school. My husband is going into the army and I am less afraid of Nazis and Japs than I am about his surrounding enemies. My worry is that this constant fear and crying will have some effect on my baby."

That worry you can erase. So long as you eat properly and get exercise and rest and keep your physical condition good, your emotions will not harm the baby. They harm only you.

One has to read between the lines here. Who are your enemies? Who are the hoodlums? It seems plausible that you belong to one of the racial or religious minorities and the disgraceful, inexcusable conduct of hoodlums toward such minorities in your community, has aroused your fears.

If it makes you feel better, take a walk each day when your children are coming home from school and walk part of the way with them. It will do you good, too. Cry if you wish but take it humorously. Just say, "Excuse me while I have a good cry." Knowing it is an evidence of glandular unbalance and talking about it may help you to overcome it.

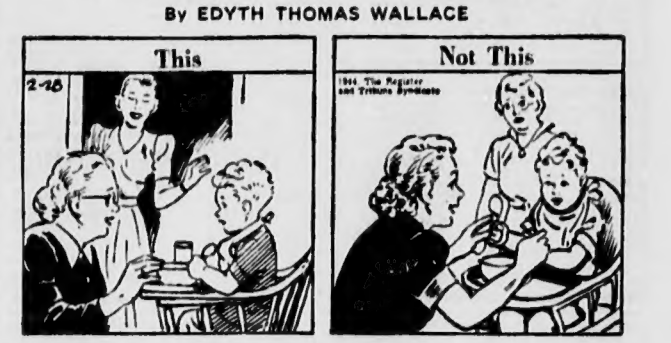

It is, as you well know, the secret fears, the secret crying, the secret apprehensions about WHY you cry, which distresses you. You must admit that your children's and husband's real enemies are still our country's enemies.

Our leaflet on "Advice to the Prospective Mother," deals with pre-natal influences. It may be had by sending a 4-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper, requesting it.

MAYFIELD, Eng. (CP)—The vicar of this Sussex village conducted an informal religious service at the local public house 15 minutes before closing time recently. The villagers had been informed of the event beforehand, and there was a good attendance.

Maj. V. Levine To Be Speaker

The Women's Canadian Club will hold a meeting in the Macdonald hotel on Thursday at 3 p.m., when the guest speaker will be Maj. Victor E. Levine, M.C., executive officer of Unit 1, Military Service Command, U.S. Army. He will speak on "Travelling Through Alaska."

Maj. Levine is familiar with the north, having made seven trips to the Arctic, for the purpose of making medical and biological studies of the Eskimos.

Mrs. Chester Gainer, president, will introduce the speaker.

Chinese Women Are Fearless

Alling was a lovely young Chinese girl when the first clash on Marco Polo bridge signalled the Sino-Japanese war. Now she is a member of a fierce guerrilla force, acting as a decoy, leading the enemy where they can be destroyed by her fearless comrades.

With the outbreak of hostilities in 1937, Chinese women buckled on the armor of their country and went to war with their men. Under the direction of China's First Lady, Madame Chiang Kai-shek, women's activities were organized by the Women's Advisory Council of the New Life Movement Association. Members of this movement were responsible for the evacuation of some 30,000 women in Hankow when the Japanese attack upon that city was imminent. Their work didn't stop there, however, for they took it upon themselves to find new occupations for these 30,000 women.

HAD ARMY

Long before Canada organized her CWAC's, or Britain thought of having her ATS, China had her uniformed members of the army. The most famous of these was the Kwangsi Province's Girls Army. Two thousand Kwangsi girl students competed in a stiff examination for the privilege of joining the army. During retreats they helped destroy communications and to evacuate civilians. Later when Chinese troops regained their lost ground, the girls helped refugees to return to their battered homes. They taught people the rudiments of A.R.P. work, how to build dugouts near their homes and how to wash and sew for the soldiers. A second such army was later organized in Hunan province.

Although many Chinese women have actually fought in the battle lines, their work has more often been that of service to the men's army units. The Committee on Service in War Areas under Mme. Chiang's Women's Advisory Council sends women through a short training course for practical work in war areas. After completing the course, the women go right up to the front line positions, and sometimes even behind the enemy lines where their job consists of mobilizing the village women for active service and securing co-operation between the army and the people.

From the first day of war, nursing, bandage making and even political propaganda units to work with the army have been organized. Notable, too, has been the work of the Chinese nurse, Chinese women, in addition to these various war jobs, have undertaken the teaching and reading and writing and are helping to spread the doctrine of democracy amongst their people.

Word was received recently in Chungking, the present capital of free China, that many co-eds in the University town of Chengtu and in other towns of Szechwan province have applied to the military authorities for permission to join the army. Up to the present time, more than 3,000 students of both sexes in Szechwan have volunteered. This current "Join the Army Movement" there and in many other parts of the country, shows the new temper developing among the thinking people of China, and indicates that the students want to play a part in the final phase of the war which they believe is fast approaching.

Canadians Are Friendly Say

British Brides

WINNIPEG, Feb. 28.—(CP)—Canada hasn't disappointed British girls who came over as brides. "It's lived up to all our expectations," said a number who have settled in Winnipeg and district.

"You are all so friendly it's just like home," said Mrs. Raymond Woodward Jewsbury, whose husband, a native of Winnipeg, is a captain in the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry. Mrs. Jewsbury, the former Olivia Ford, was a London actress before her marriage. "We met at a theatrical party in Brighton," she said. "I didn't know anything about Canada before my arrival here although I had done quite a bit of travelling in Europe," Mrs. Jewsbury continued. "I had, of course, heard of your notorious winter weather but so far it hasn't quite lived up to its name—although your combination of snow and sunshine is unique."

"The lights gave me frightful headaches at first but I've grown accustomed to them," said Mrs. Valerie Maclean, wife of Major Ian Maclean, of Winnipeg, now with the R.C.A.M.C. in Italy. Mrs. Maclean, a native of Waterford, Ireland, was a nurse when she met her husband. She lived in London for three years after her marriage and has two children, John Roderick, two, and Allan David, one.

"Canadians are the most hospitable people I've ever met," Mrs. Maclean said. "The ocean crossing with the children was quite an ordeal but the minute I arrived in Montreal I was befriended and the people couldn't have been kinder."

The majority of the girls travelled through the east but as yet haven't seen the west. "I'm looking forward to really seeing Canada as soon as possible," said Mrs. Jew-

ARE MARRIED AT ANSGAR CHURCH

Cpl. and Mrs. George Skov are shown here shortly after their wedding which took place Friday evening at the Ansgar Lutheran church. The bride is the former Miss May Mogensen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Mogensen, and Cpl. Skov is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Skov, all of Edmonton. The bridegroom is stationed with the R.C.A.F. in Assiniboia, Sask., and the couple will take up temporary residence there.

Mrs. E. A. Easton entertained at a miscellaneous shower on Friday evening at her home, in honor of Miss Louise Glendenning, a niece of next month. Guests were Mrs. A. W. Barnes, Mrs. J. C. Easton, Mrs. J. H. Keeler, Mrs. H. M. Clendenning, Mrs. H. Mack, Mrs. C. Hickey, Mrs. R. Seath, Mrs. L. Hepler, Mrs. J. R. Keeler, Mrs. G. White, Mrs. R. Smith and the Misses Doreen Barnes, Rita Easton, Edna Easton, Alisa Ferguson, Sylvia Rourke and Mary Seath.

The Council for Canadian Unity is sponsoring a "Chinese Night" on Wednesday at 8 p.m. in Talmud Torah Hall, when legends, songs, etc., of Chinese interest will be presented. The public is invited. Some of Edmonton's leading Chinese citizens will take part. Items of special interest will be the reading of well known Chinese legends by Mrs. E. S. Haynes; new Chinese guerrilla songs; a paper by Miss Vera Pon on "War in China Today" to be followed by a discussion period. Refreshments will be served.

Seaman First Class Fred Blanchard, of the U.S. Navy, will leave some time Monday to return to duties. He has been home on leave, visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Blanchard.

Miss Joyce Fidler entertained recently at a miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Louise Glendenning, whose marriage to Glenn Hepler takes place at Robertson United church, on March 3. Those present were Mrs. H. M. Glendenning, Mrs. G. Hepler, Mrs. Bert Easton, Mrs. J. G. Ferguson, Mrs. J. Keeler, Mrs. Roy Keeler, Mrs. R. P. Ogilvie, Mrs. G. G. Rourke, Mrs. E. Fidler, Miss Alisa Evers, Miss Violet Grimwood and Miss Sylvia Rourke.

Mrs. Eric Duggan has returned to the city after spending a holiday skiing at Sunshine Ski Camp.

The Home Front Guild meeting has been postponed from this evening to March 13 and will be held at the home of Mrs. A. Pratt, 11418 93 Street.

Winnipeg Girl Will Appear on New York Stage

WINNIPEG, Feb. 28.—(CP)—A childhood dream will come true shortly for Freda Trepel, of Winnipeg, one of Canada's most brilliant young pianists. On March 10, she is to give a piano recital in Town Hall, New York.

"I just want to play at Town Hall for my own personal satisfaction," she said. "I don't care whether it wins me fame or not." Miss Trepel, now 25, has studied music since she was five. While studying at the Chicago Musical College she won the highest honors accorded any student of the piano, being selected to play the Saint-Saens Concerto and the Tchaikovsky Concerto with orchestra under the direction of Leon Sametini. She was awarded her Bachelor of Music degree in 1939, and gave her debut recital in Chicago in April, 1940.

For several years she was associated with her two sisters, Anne, violinist, and Shirley, cellist. The trio played at many concerts and war relief benefits. She was married to Dr. B. Bookhalter, of Winnipeg, two years ago.

bury. "Back home I'd heard so much about the magnificent scenery at the west coast and your miles of rolling prairie—I'm going to be one of Canada's first post-war travellers."

1,200 Attend Depot Dance

More than 1,200 airmen and their friends attended a dance held at No. 3 "M" Depot on Friday evening. Music was supplied by the Depot orchestra directed by Sgt. Charlie Pawlett.

Y.M.C.A. supervisor, Bert Pettigrew acted as master of ceremonies.

R.A.F., R.N.Z.A.F., and R.A.A.F. airmen were present. A few U.S. Army personnel also attended. The following junior hostess clubs were present: Kelson group, Komax club, Kappa Rho, Kuni-Angs, Jasperettes, Johnstone Walker's girls' club, Journal girls' club, MacDonald Consolidated girls' club, No. 16 A.I.D. office. Senior hostesses in charge were Miss Joan Drummond and Mrs. Jessie Kirkby. The Canadianettes War Service club handled the check room.

The committee in charge of arrangements was Miss L. Larry Larcombe, P.O. R. Y. Hogg, Cpl. Blackwood and Fred Youmans "Y" supervisor.

Prof. A. Cru Speaks to Club

In celebration of International Night, the Edmonton Branch, Business and Professional Women's Club, entertained one evening recently in the Quota Club room, near the Corona hotel. Professor A. L. Cru, M.A., New York, B.S.-L. Paris, Sessional Professor of French at the University of Alberta, was guest speaker.

The room was gaily decorated with small silk flags of the Allied nations. Miss Jean McCallum, president of the club, received the guests.

Prof. Cru gave an inspiring and colorful address on the Free French movement, since the collapse of France. He told of the activities of the Underground in France, regarding the publication of newspapers and sabotage against the Germans. He explained that true Frenchmen all over the world are behind General De Gaulle, and are only awaiting the day they will once more see prostrate France take her place among the great nations.

Miss Eva Sangster made a report on the findings of the study group on post war reconstruction. She urged the members to study post war plans of every nation, including our own government's plans as they arise. She explained the necessity for women to exercise their franchise so that they will have a voice in plans to be carried out.

Guests were received from Dr. Phillips of Stockholm, in which she described the splendid way business and professional women in Norway are carrying on despite the handicaps which their country is facing.

The program for the evening was in charge of Miss S. Brewster. Refreshments were served under the convener'ship of Miss Mollie Reid, assisted by Miss Robina MacMillan, Miss E. Cleaver and others.

Navy Wives Hold Meeting At Y.W.C.A.

Those present were Mrs. J. Grantham, Mrs. A. Fraser, Mrs. W. Links, Mrs. D. Almus, Miss E. Almus of the Double Duty club, Mrs. Johnson of the Y.W.C.A. Navy wives present were Mrs. R. Garrett, Mrs. E. Allison, Mrs. E. Edgar, Mrs. C. Brandt, Mrs. C. White, Mrs. Irvine, Mrs. R. Greenlee, Mrs. W. Howard, Mrs. A. Seymour, Mrs. F. Jordan, and Mrs. Robertson.

The Navy Wives club meets every Wednesday evening from 8 to 11 in the War Services' club room in the south hall of the Y.W.C.A. A cordial invitation is extended to wives of all navy men to join them.

Gibb-Moreau Nuptials Held

St. Anthony's rectory was the scene of a quiet wedding on Saturday evening, when Miss Vivienne Frances Moreau pledged marriage vows with Donald Henry Gibb of Vancouver. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Z. Moreau of Edmonton, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Gibb, also of this city. The Rev. Father C. J. Foran officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an afternoon length dress of coral crepe, matching hat trimmed with veiling, and other accessories in black. A cluster of roses comprised her corsage.

Miss Lillian Moreau was her sister's bridesmaid. She was frocked in an afternoon dress of froth blue, hat to match, and other accessories of black. Tallman roses en corsage were pinned to her shoulder.

Best man was Colin Mitchell.

A reception to 30 guests was held at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. M. O'Brien. Receiving with the wedding party, Mrs. Moreau wore an ensemble of bergundy red, and Mrs. Gibb wore an outfit of sky blue. Pink carnations comprised their corsages.

The bride's three-tiered cake was a gift of her godparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spicer, of Grande Prairie.

Father Foran proposed the toast to the bride, Mrs. R. Fraser gave piano selections throughout the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Gibb left later for Vancouver where they will reside. The bride, for travelling, wore a red and beige wool suit, with a topcoat of green tweed, and beige accessories.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell of Calgary; S. F. O'Brien of Berwyn, Alta.; L.A.C. Lawrence Moreau, R.C.A.F. of Suffield; Mr. and Mrs. J. Moreau of Mundare; and LAW. Margaret Gibb, R.C.A.F. (W.D.), of Pearce.

600 Attend First Annual Rally Held by C.V.B. in Empire Room

Six hundred block leaders of the Citizens' Volunteer Bureau, and their guests, were present at the first annual rally ever held by the organization on Saturday from 2:30 to 5:30 p.m. in the Empire Room of the Hudson's Bay Company store.

Empire flags were used throughout the room, and guests sat at tables and in groups for tea.

Mrs. H. C. Newland, chairman of the Planning Board, received, assisted by Mrs. G. F. Hagelstein, director, and Mrs. Ray Schurman, zone chairman.

Short talks were given during the afternoon by Mrs. Newland, Mrs. Hagelstein, Mrs. F. C. Butterworth, and Mrs. C. G. McCalla. R. G. Thomlinson, chairman of the Edmonton Stamp Committee also spoke briefly.

The Newland said: "The C.V.B. distributes necessary work so that no one is completely overburdened. It affords an opportunity for contacting every citizen, and no one is left out. It encourages community solidarity. It gets work done quickly and creates a 'neighborhood in action'."

Mrs. Hagelstein explained that the C.V.B. is growing to be a nation wide set up in which personal feelings are pocketed.

The other speakers also outlined briefly the work of the Citizens' Volunteer Bureau.

In charge of refreshments were Mrs. J. Murdoch, Mrs. S. R. Lloyd, Mrs. F. Blackmer, and Mrs. V. Shirlaw. Taking registrations were Mrs. Hector Kennedy, Mrs. M. Horncastle, Mrs. J. Moar and Mrs. H. Holmes.

Miss Elfrida Jacoby has returned to her home in Dundurn, Sask., after visiting in the city with her sister, Mrs. O. J. Walker.

Bride-To-Be Guest at Tea

Mrs. A. H. Davis entertained at an informal tea on Sunday afternoon at her home, in compliment to her daughter, Miss Marian Hughes Davis, who will be married this week to Sgt. Pilot Douglas Campbell Beag, R.A.F., of Edinburgh, Scotland. The latter was also a guest at the tea, together with Sgt. Pilot M. Downs, R.A.F., of Bristol, Eng.

Thirty guests called during the afternoon. Dainty bouquets of tulips were arranged throughout the drawing room. Pouring tea were Mrs. I. Fawkes and Mrs. Ted Pickard.

AC. Ted Pickard, R.C.A.F., who plays with the No. 3 "M" Depot band, gave violin selections accompanied by Mrs. Pickard. Singing and other musical entertainment was held.

On Friday, Miss Eileen Warley entertained at a miscellaneous shower at the home of her mother, Mrs. Ernest Warley, in compliment to Miss Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Strachan entertained informally Saturday evening at their home in the Highlands.

by the Tweeds

Just caught the Farnham youngsters being bundled off to school. Look at those snug new ski suits and those smiling faces! They'd had Kellogg's Corn Flakes for breakfast. So Tommy and I ducked in to see if we could beg some too. Kellogg's Corn Flakes are so good and a bowlful with milk and sugar is full of energy for winter days. Made by Kellogg's in London, Canada.

Church Policy Outlined Here By Archbishop

moral ones, he continued. For example, juvenile delinquency, which is a parental problem and one concerned with the failure of "those whom God has charged with the serious duty of looking after their children."

"The divorce of religion from education is a social problem which is mostly a problem of faith, he said, although "no social order can prosper, or have the blessings of divine providence, if God is going to be kept out of consideration all the time."

Housing may seem to be a purely economic question, he said, but when the lack of, or inadequacy of, housing affects the privacy of individuals or interferes with the raising of families or proper family life, then housing becomes a moral question as well, and then the church not only has the authority, but the duty, to deal with that aspect.

IMPORTANT WORK
The church, His Grace said, not only has been dealing with the social question from the moral and faith viewpoint, but it would be too bad for the church and members of the church if the church didn't.

When housing reaches the stage where people can't have children, it is a matter of interest to the church.

The church did not have any right or desire to take action in matters so long as they remained within the realm of economics. But when economics extended their ramifications to the extent that the moral and spiritual welfare of the people became affected, then it was a matter for the church.

J. J. Frawley, K.C., in introducing Archbishop MacDonald, referred to the inadequate distribution of wealth. He recalled that in 1928 in Great Britain and Northern Ireland, 83 per cent of the people had an income not exceeding $1,000 a year. He pointed out that 10 per cent of the population received 45 per cent of the total income and 90 per cent received 55 per cent. This situation might not prevail today, but there was a danger in returning to that condition.

PROFESS TEACHING
He stated that all churches which profess to the teaching and practice the teaching of Christianity, by that very fact, have the right and even the obligation to "meddle" in social security to the very limit of their endeavors.

The church was the guardian of the moral law, and in every aspect of today's social question "find indifference to, if not transgression of the moral law."

"We can all plainly see the interrelation of the moral law and such prevalent social phenomena, as in-

Citizens Seek Beautification Macdonald Area

Public acquisition of property immediately north of the Macdonald hotel for conversion into a park is the first objective of a committee of citizens organized by Frank Pike, retired bank manager, and a leading community welfare worker.

The primary purpose of the committee is to beautify the city and it will support the City Council and all other constituted authorities furthering plans to improve the appearance of the community.

Commenting on the committee and its objectives, Mr. Pike made the following statement:
For more than a quarter of a century few of us have ever entered the Macdonald hotel without a feeling of annoyance at the "powers that be" for permitting the years to go by without, apparently, attempting to do anything to remedy the unsightly approach to that stately structure.

We can imagine what Shakespeare would have said if he had ever been a guest at the hotel—this precious stone set in the silver seas of unattractive backyards.

We are not reflecting on backyards and consider them very necessary appurtenances to any well-regulated household, with their garbage bins and ash barrels, but surely they are neither ornamental nor useful in decorating the entrance to the Macdonald in the very heart of the city.

Some of us have protested for years to the dominion, provincial and city authorities. We think all these — if properly approached — would, or should, share in the responsibility and expense of eliminating an unsightly blot on the capital city of Alberta.

NO ACTION
No doubt our mayor and council, town planning commission and almost everyone agrees with us, but as Mark Twain said about the weather, "No one does anything about it."

Have we Edmontonians become so accustomed to ugliness that we have lost all sense of the fitness of things, or pride in our city? Here we have one of the finest sites for a city, the whole domain and yet, about the only impression of Edmonton that many visitors acquire who stay here, "at the crossroads of the world," is the wash out on the lines and the ash cans of the adjoining backyards.

We pride ourselves in living in the progressive west, away from the effete east, but the old cities of the maritime provinces, Halifax, St. John and Charlottetown, have set us a fine example, their hotels are situated in beautiful little parks. How much longer are we going to stand for it? There surely must be some solution of this important problem.

If the city has the right to expropriate it should do so without further delay before speculators get busy and the opportunity is lost forever.

Edmonton has prospered during the war years. All our city utilities are flourishing. Now is the time to make an investment in the artistic improvement of the very centre of our city. No one can estimate in dollars and cents the future value of such an investment.

Where there is no vision, the people perish and the vision from the north side of the Macdonald is not conducive to longevity. We should have a little park at the entrance to our fine hotel, with a well-developed group of stately dedicated to the "old pioneers," trappers, ranchers and mounties. Then we would have a very appropriate place for our slogan, "Edmonton, the gateway to the north."

adequate and overcrowding housing, sub-normal wages and low standards of living, inadequate medical care and hospitalization.

"To just the extent that such conditions bear on the moral law, to the same extent is it the business of the Christian churches not only to be conscious of the existence of such conditions, but to assume their fair share along with the state of the burden of solving them." He referred to His Grace's work among the communities of Nova Scotia and the deep-rooted Christianity with which he had carried on all his activities.

QUESTION PERIOD
A question period followed in which two questions were asked. A man asked if it was not transgressing a commandment when Andrew Carnegie the steel king, sold steel at $47.50 one day and then a few days later sold at 78. The action, he said would have violated the "Thou Shalt Not Steal" commandment.

His Grace, in reply said that there was no civil law covering such actions. They were no sanctions and while it might be called a transgression there was no actual law to cover it.

A woman asked if the war was not a violation on the world for its wrong-doing. This question was stated to be without the scope of the discussion.

A half-hour period of general discussion followed the Archbishop's address. He was introduced by the chairman for the meeting, J. J. Frawley, K.C.

The meeting was opened by the chairman for the Lenten series, John J. Leahy who, together with Rev. Emile Brere of St. Joseph's Seminary, arranged the series.

Presides

H. D. Lynn, president of the Army and Navy Veterans of Canada, who presided over the Paardeberg smoker at Victoria Armory Saturday night.

South African War Veterans Hold Smoker

Weapons and tactics of war may change but the spirit of the British soldier remains the same, cheerful and indomitable.

That was the only impression one could possibly obtain at the Victoria Armory on Saturday evening, as more than 100 gallant veterans of the South Africa war and honored guests, gathered for the annual Paardeberg smoker.

RECALL OLD BATTLES
With the rumble of the present titanic struggle in their ears, the men of Ladysmith, Spion Kop and Paardeberg recalled in story and song the great battles of four decades ago.

H. D. Lynn, president of the Edmonton branch of the Army and Navy Veterans of Canada, presided over the gathering, that included many men serving in the present struggle and invited guests from U.S. forces stationed in the city.

A feature of the evening was a short talk by G. F. Keeley, on "Desert Column at Abu Klea" in 1885 on the march to relieve Karloim. Mr. Keeley is 79.

He was loudly cheered for his colorful description of that historic operation.

With the example of courage and devotion to duty set by the men of the South African campaign, it is only natural that the young Britisher of today is proving worthy of the fighting breed. R. G. Reid, former premier of Alberta, said in a short address on "The South African War."

"Our sons are as good as ever," Mr. Reid declared amid applause.

Others who spoke briefly included: Mayor John W. Fry, Col. W. F. Hancock, assistant commissioner for the R.C.M.P., Lt. George H. Greenwood, D.S.C., representing the R.C.N.V.R. Dr. E. A. Braithwaite, chief provincial coroner, and A. Semple.

SPEAKS OF MOUNTIES
Dr. Braithwaite spoke briefly of life in the Royal Northwest Mounted Police during the Northwest Rebellion of 1885.

Mr. Semple spoke of the operation at Dargai in 1897.

Greetings from the Canadian Corps Association and the Canadian Legion were extended by S. C. S. Kerr, K.C., and W. R. Williams, respectively.

A London flag and campaign hat from the City of London Imperial Volunteers were displayed. The following were in charge of arrangements for the gathering: H. D. Lynn, Col. F. C. Jamieson, K.C., Maj. W. Wilkin, C. Burnstead, J. H. Faulkner and Robert Law.

Singing of popular war ballads was led by Jack Jones, while other songs were rendered by Bill Lynch, Art Stead and Arthur Wensley.

The Victoria Armory was placed at the disposal of the veterans through the kindness of Lt.-Col. H. E. Pearson, M.C., officer commanding the 2nd (R) Bn. of the Edmonton Fusiliers.

Evacuate Cities
MOSCOW, Feb. 28. (AP)—The Rumanians are evacuating civilians and equipment from Tiraspol, Odessa, Chisinau and Cernauti and cleaning out Moldavia's food supply as the spectre of the Red Army looms before Hitler's ally.

A Pravda dispatch quoting underground reports said today.

Amendments City Charters Are Approved

Under terms of charter amendments given approval Monday morning by the municipal law committee of the Legislature, the city of Wetaskiwin in the future will elect its mayor for a two year term, commencing with the term of the next mayor to be elected.

Wetaskiwin placed several charter amendments before the committee for approval, one of them to allow its council to pay a salary of not more than $800 a year to the mayor, and to increase the pay of aldermen from $3 to $5 a meeting, provided the number of meetings paid for does not exceed 25 in any one year. The charter also provides for a change in the municipal government system of the city, providing for the appointment or election of two commissioners, one of whom may be the mayor.

Representing Wetaskiwin at the committee hearing were C. D. Enman, mayor; C. H. Russell, K.C., city solicitor, and Aldermen James Paton, Alex. Sims and Godfrey Baker.

Charter amendments for the City of Red Deer were also approved by the municipal law committee Monday. One will allow the city to invest surplus funds of any utility in Dominion of Canada securities, or in securities guaranteed by the Dominion, or in debentures owing by the board of the Red Deer municipal hospital, and by the board of the Red Deer school district.

AT MEETING
Red Deer was represented by Commissioner R. S. Gillespie, and City Solicitor P. E. Graham.

The charter amendments approved will be placed before the Legislature for approval in a sitting of the Committee of the Whole.

Before the Magistrate

George T. Taylor, Toronto, charged with uttering forged documents to the value of more than $800, was told he could not expect a fourth or fifth chance for similar and other offences, dating back to 1929, and was sentenced to two years' imprisonment in Prince Albert penitentiary by Magistrate A. I. Millar, K.C., Monday morning.

The sentences, applied to two charges, were ordered to run concurrently.

The court was told that the prisoner arrested and brought from Toronto, had been employed by an Edmonton firm which dismissed him Jan. 17 last. Returning to the office to get his belongings, he is said to have helped himself to two blank cheques which he issued soon after.

Telephoning a South Side bank, said Detective Alex. Stevenson, the accused told the management that a man would appear at the bank, after hours, with a cheque for $810.90, which was to be cashed. The accused represented himself as being his late employer.

The cheque was cashed, and the accused left the city, to be picked up by Toronto police, at the request of Edmonton police, on Feb. 12. Accused was said to have spent the money for travelling and living expenses.

The accused's record, said Mr. Millar, showing it showed that he had been convicted at Toronto of theft in 1929; theft of an auto battery in 1934; two more charges of theft in the same year; a conviction in 1939 for false pretences, and a conviction for contributing to the juvenile delinquency in 1942. All of which, observed the magistrate, showed that the accused had "quite a bit of experience in a police court."

Social Work Parley Is To Be Held Winnipeg

The ninth annual Canadian conference on social work will be held this year on May 15, 16, 17 and 18 in Winnipeg, it was announced Monday by Miss Lillian Thomson, executive director of the Council of Social Agencies.

Representatives from all over the Dominion will attend and those in Edmonton interested are urged to register with Miss Thomson.

Mrs. R. F. McWilliams, wife of the Lieutenant Governor of Manitoba, is president of the conference, which will feature Dr. E. M. Burns of Washington as one of the principal speakers.

In submitting the consolidated license bylaw T. E. Garside, K.C., states that the present license bylaw was passed in 1926 and has been amended frequently since then, and it is felt that it would be convenient if this bylaw were revised and consolidated and a new bylaw passed.

He said that apart from minor changes in language, aimed at clarity, and not affecting principle, there are only 13 changes in the bylaw.

The new fire bylaw consolidation has been undertaken to bring the bylaw into conformity with other city bylaws, principally the building bylaw, which was passed since the fire bylaw went into effect.

Russia Honors Sir Alan Brooke

LONDON, Feb. 28. (AP)—The Russian Order of Suvorov, First Class, has been awarded to Gen. Sir Alan Brooke, chief of the British general staff, the Moscow radio reported yesterday, "for outstanding military activities and services rendered in carrying out leadership of the British armed forces against the common enemy of the U.S.S.R. and Britain—Hitlerite Germany."

Army and Navy Veterans Seek New Quarters

Edmonton branch of the Army and Navy Veterans of Canada is experiencing growing pains.

New and larger quarters are urgently needed to accommodate the rapidly increasing membership, it was revealed at the regular monthly meeting of the branch held Sunday in the club rooms.

A committee, appointed some time ago to investigate premises that might be obtained, reported progress to the meeting.

The branch is giving consideration both to building premises and renting. Several promising sites are being given consideration, it was reported.

President H. D. Lynn presided, with newly-elected First Vice-president H. S. Reynolds sitting on the executive for the first time.

Mr. Reynolds is also Edmonton branch delegate on the provincial command.

Reports were received from the branch's delegates on the Edmonton ex-servicemen's rehabilitation committee, H. D. Lynn and Thomas Hollands.

The committee's stand, urging that all veterans of the present war be maintained on the strength of the forces until completely rehabilitated, was heartily endorsed.

A resolution asks the defence department to issue service medals to veterans of the First Great War who served in Canada. It is pointed out that many men served in instructional capacities in Canada during the last war and were deprived of the opportunity to serve overseas greatly against their own wishes.

POLICY NOT CLEAR
Medals and ribbons may be worn by men who served in England only and just why there should be a distinction is not clear, movers of the resolution stated.

A large number of young veterans of the present war attended the meeting.

800 Are Present At Ice Carnival

Brig.-Gen. L. D. Worsham, commanding general, Northwest Service Command, U.S. Army, and Mayor John W. Fry officially opened the 1944 ice carnival of the North West Division of the U.S. Engineers department, at the headquarters centre rink Sunday afternoon.

More than 800 Americans and their friends witnessed exhibitions of fancy skating, speed skating, a broomball game and a hockey match.

One of the outstanding attractions was the fancy skating exhibition given by members of the Glenora Skating club including Alex. Munro, his two daughters, Lillian and Rosemary, and his son, Murdo; Stephanie MacDonald, women's senior figure skating champion, and Barbara Park, nine, who holds the club juvenile championship.

A comedy act by Freddy Astle and Bobby Blackett was another highlight of the program. In the broomball game the U.S.E.D. firemen defeated the Engineer All-Stars by a 1-0 count.

An exciting hockey game between the U.S.E.D. and a team chosen from the leading players in the community league resulted in a 3-2 victory for the community players.

Stuart L. Goldstein acted as master of ceremonies, and the honorary chairman was Lt.-Col. C. M. Clifford.

The commissioners' report that heating improvements to the No. 2 hangar at the airport will cost between $400 and $500, all that is needed in this connection being the installation of a return water pump.

In submitting the consolidated license bylaw T. E. Garside, K.C., states that the present license bylaw was passed in 1926 and has been amended frequently since then, and it is felt that it would be convenient if this bylaw were revised and consolidated and a new bylaw passed.

Russia Honors Sir Alan Brooke

LONDON, Feb. 28. (AP)—The Russian Order of Suvorov, First Class, has been awarded to Gen. Sir Alan Brooke, chief of the British general staff, the Moscow radio reported yesterday, "for outstanding military activities and services rendered in carrying out leadership of the British armed forces against the common enemy of the U.S.S.R. and Britain—Hitlerite Germany."

Aircraft Repair Employees' Bank Elects Officers

Aircraft Repair employees' bank, the Northgate Savings and Credit Union, held its first annual meeting Sunday at the Labor Hall. New slate of officers was elected, past season's reports were received, and R. H. Huggert, of the Unemployment Insurance Commission Credit and Savings Union, addressed the meeting on "Points about Credit Unions."

Directors chosen included A. Howard, C. T. Hustwick, B. E. Berry, J. Harold and B. E. Berry. They will appoint their own president, vice-president and secretary-treasurer.

On the credit committee are J. O. McCoy, R. Poole, and G. Lyse. Mrs. A. Kemp, C. Lynn and W. Molsness are members of the supervisory committee.

The organization was formed last June and serves the employees and their families of Aircraft Repair Ltd.

There are 75,000 deaths and 100,000 births in New York City annually.

D.R. BOBBS

YOU SEE—WE'VE CHANGED THE RULES OF THE CLUB, BLAIR...

YOU WERE ALWAYS THE SQUEAMISH TYPE... NO BLOODSHED, YOU INSISTED...

THINK OF HOW LUCKY YOU ARE—YOU'RE NO LONGER PRESIDENT OF A CLUB OF VICIOUS, COLD-BLOODED MURDERERS!

TILLIE

I WANT TO SEND SOMETHING TO MAC JUST SO HE'LL KNOW I'M THINKING OF HIM! ONLY I COULDN'T THINK OF SOMETHING!

THE BOYS IN THIS CAMP CERTAINLY USE OUR LIBRARY OVERTIME!

THAT GIRL IS TRUE AT ALL THE CAMPS!

I'D LIKE SOMETHING FOR A SOLDIER THAT WILL RELAX HIM AFTER A DAY'S ROUTINE!

THIS BOOK IS WHAT EVERY BOY LIKES—IT'S FULL OF BEAUTIFUL GIRLS!

HEH! I WANT HIM TO THINK OF ME! NOT GIVE HIM INSOMNIA!

TOOTS

CASPER, MY OLD SCHOOL CHUM, BETSY MORGABILT, AND HER MOTHER LEFT TOWN THIS MORNING!

I'M SORRY YOU DIDN'T GET TO MEET HER—YOU NEVER WERE AROUND WHEN SHE DROPPED IN TO SEE ME!

TOOTS, I WAS SWAMPED AT THE OFFICE WITH MY BOSS AWAY SICK!

YOU BET I MADE MYSELF SCARCE WHEN BETSY WAS HERE! SHE'S THE GAL THAT I WINED AND DINED, TRYING TO GET HER TO SIGN THAT CONTRACT!

NOW MY WORRIES ARE OVER, AND TOOTS WILL NEVER KNOW ABOUT THE INCIDENT...

WASH TUBBS

AS PENNY ASKS IF EASY WAS KILLED BY THE ASSASSIN, SHE SUDDENLY REMEMBERS SHE IS ANGRY!

NO, PENNY, HE MISSED ME WITH THAT KNIFE! BUT SAY! THIS IS A SURPRISE! HOW DID YOU GET HERE?

I'M GLAD YOU'RE ALL RIGHT, CAPTAIN EASY!

INTRODUCE ME, PENNY!

WELL, BETTY AND I MUST RUN ALONG NOW!

WHAT'S GOTTEN INTO YOU, PENNY? HEY, FELLA! LET GO! I...

NOT SO FAST, SHE! WHAT'S ALL THIS SHOUTIN' ABOUT? HAS SOMEONE BEEN MOLESIN' THESE GIRLS?

FRECKLES

IF ONLY HAL KROONER HAD A SKELETON IN HIS CLOSET, THE GIRLS IN SHADYSIDE MIGHT BECOME DISILLUSIONED AND FORGET HIM!—ANYWAY, THAT'S THE THEORY BEING APPLIED BY SEVERAL OF OUR FRIENDS!

REMEMBER NOW—WE'VE GOT TO SPEAK OF THE RUMOR THAT KROONER ISN'T A BACHELOR! RIGHT!

WHAT ARE YOU DOING HERE?

I WAS WONDERING HOW HAL KROONER'S WIFE LIKES YOUR INFATUATION FOR HIM?

WIFE? HE HASN'T GOT A WIFE!

HMMM!—THEN MAYBE THAT'S WHY HE WANTS TO GET MARRIED AGAIN!

I GUESS HE NEEDS SOMEONE TO LOOK AFTER HIS THREE KIDS!

ALLEY OOP

NARY A BITE HAS DINNY HAD SINCE THEY MADE ME BRING HIM HERE. I TELL YOU, IT LOOKS RIGHT BAD, 'ES AT DEATH'S DOOR OR VERY NEAR!

WHY THEM DIRTY, LOW-DOWN RATS!

THEY'RE GOIN' TO PAY FOR THIS!

OUTA MY WAY YOU LUGS! LEMME AT THEM PRICKERS! TRY TASTING MY DINGY SALT, THEY?

GRRRRR!

BOOTS

HONESTLY, PROFESSOR, LET THEM LAUGH FOR THE SAKE OF THE WHOLE NEIGHBORHOODS. AMERICANS WOULD ALL DO WELL TO FORGET THEIR PRIDE!

SOMEONE TO SEE YOU, P'FESSOR

SOMEONE CALLED ABOUT A DONATION FOR OUR SCRAP METAL DRIVE.

MOON MULLINS

STOP! VER PULLIN' LADY! SHE'S STRETCHIN' IT'S LITTLE NECK!

WELL, WHAT IF WE DO STRETCH IT INCH OR TWO?

OH, I SAY—THE BABY CAN'T STAND THAT, YOU KNOW.

AW, DON'T GO GETTING EXCITED, LOGO. P. THE BABY AINT IN THE DRESS.

HUGH STRIVER

DON'T YOU WANT TO KNOW WHAT YOUR MOTHER SAYS YOU, BUD?

YEP—AN' WHEN WE GET TO YOUR HOUSE I'M A-GOIN' TO LOOK!

I SEEN WATCH IN THAT PUP OF YOURS, HUGH—HE'S SMART!

I GET IT!

I WON'T SAY ANYTHING MORE ABOUT THAT PACKAGE!

SHUCKS, HUGH—IT CAN'T BE IMPORTANT, 'ER MAMIE WOULDN'T A HAD IT!

DICK TRACY

LISTEN, BROTHER, I'M JUST A LITTLE PITCHMAN. I SELL LITTLE BOTTLES OF DRY CLEANER TO THE DOOPES—

I SAID, STEP OVER IN THE HALLWAY!

OKAY, BUT KEEP YOUR FINGERS OFF THAT TRIGGER!

I'M COVERED WITH GOOT AND DIRT AND MONEY!

BUT, LISTEN, BROTHER, THIS DRY CLEANER I'M SELLING IS THE BUNK. IT WON'T—

1,000 Job Claims In Drumheller Area

CALGARY, Feb. 28.—(CP)—The Unemployment Insurance Commission had taken 1,000 unemployment insurance claims in the Drumheller valley during the past week and 400 at Lethbridge, but there were still 42,000 unfilled jobs in Western Canada, said F. J. White, western regional representative, Unemployment Insurance and National Selective Service, speaking to the Calgary Trades and Labor Council.

It was not possible, he said, to equate the jobs and jobless because many of the unemployed had not the physique or training for the unfilled positions. One Selective Service office had orders for 10,000 wood cutters, but this was a type of work for which not everyone was physically adapted and many unemployed were loathe to accept this kind of employment.

It was estimated that 85 per cent of Canadian workers were covered by unemployment insurance and the reserve in the unemployment Insurance fund was now in the neighborhood of $182,000,000, said Mr. White.

Ukrainian Group Officers Elected

WINNIPEG, Feb. 28.—(CP)—T. D. Ferley, former Alderman of Winnipeg, was elected president of the Ukrainian Fraternal Society of Canada at the annual convention here. The following directors were elected: P. Savich, Toronto, John Trach, Winnipeg; K. Redkewich, Montreal; P. Dumanaki, Theodore, Sask.; N. Spachinsky, Edmonton, and F. Bohdan, Vancouver.

Higher Sugar Beet Subsidy Is Sought

TORONTO, Feb. 28.—(CP)—A bill to increase the sugar beet subsidy from 55 cents to $1.55 a ton will be introduced in the Ontario legislature this week by Agriculture Minister T. L. Kennedy, it was reported here yesterday. The bill proposes that the government pay the subsidy up to $225,000, or 141,000 tons of sugar beets, after which point is reached the Dominion Sugar Company would take over payment.

Find Japs Dead From Starvation

SYDNEY, Australia, Feb. 28.—(CP)—Weakened by starvation, Japanese soldiers fleeing from Australians hunting them down on the Rai coast of New Guinea tried to climb a 100-foot-high gorge by a rope. When the Australians reached them they found the bodies of 80 Japanese heaped at the foot of the rope which they had not the strength to climb, according to dispatches from New Guinea.

A few Japanese who made a second attempt were picked off by Australians descending the opposite wall of the gorge.

American and Australian troops searching another area for a lost plane found the bodies of 82 Japanese heaped near Ridge Ridge. They had lost their grip on the knife-like ridge, where the trail clung to a precipice, and had toppled to their death.

Knives and spear-heads used by many South Pacific Melanesian tribes are made of obsidian, a black volcanic glass.
